ATION TO PAY HOMAGE O MOTHERHOOD TODAY

resident Wilson Issues "Mother's Day" Message to American People — Daniels and Baker Also Issue Messages.

(By Associatetd Press)

Washington, May 11.—A nation's unity tomorrow in reverence and in honor to motherhood was asked tonight by President Wilson in a "mother's day" message to the American people.

Especially is it fitting at this time, the president said that the mothers of American men who have taken up arms in defense of world liberty be revered and he called upon all to pray to God for His Divine blessing upon them and upon their sons whose whole-hearted service is no given to the country which we love.

President Wilson's message issued in response to a house resolution said,

"I take the liberty of calling special attention to the fact that this is Mother's Day, and I take advantage of the occasion to suggest that during this day our attention be directed particularly to the patriotic sacrifices which are being be freely and generously made by the mothers of our land in unselfishly offering their sons to bear arms, and if need be to die in defense of Liberty and Justice and that we especially remember these mothers in our prayers, praying God for His Divine blessing upon them and upon their sons whose whole-hearted service is now given to the country which we love."

The other message follows:

"To The Mothers of America:

"I bring you a mesage from your boys in France. They are cheerful and earnest and full of fight—as proud of their country as their country is proud of them.

"From you they yet draw inspiration, and to you they send a message filled with determination and with hope. They hope to make this war the last war that America will ever have to fight against a military despotism and they want to fight till that hope has been achieved.

"They ask you to be of good cheer to be with them fondly in your thoughts and to sustain your hearts in the day of battle as they will sustain theirs.

"Newton D. Baker."

"To the Mothers of the Defenders of Democracy.

"The courage of the mothers in the homes is reflected by the bravery of the men at the front. It is always true that the morale of a nation's soldiers and the ideals for wich they fight are bornin the spiritual heroism of a nation's mothers. Let the nations join in prayer to all mothers of defenders of democracy to cheer and strengthen them, their sons, and the nation itself to fight to win the fight that must be won.

"Our country stands before the world as a nation fighting for the ideals of nations, and the world knows that the mothers of America are sending men of ideals to the front. In that lies our strength. Faith and prayer are the two basic supports of national idealism. International prayer for all mothers of Democracy—there are thirteen millions of them—cannot but aid every soldier in camp or trench as well as strengthen every mother at home."

"Joseph Daniels.

"To the Mothers of the world.

"The mothers of the world are one in sacrifice hope, and pride in the sons and daughters who are serving their country while their mothers aid in the same fray.

'Anna Howard Shaw."

The National association for Mothers' of Defenders of democracy announced tonight that it had set aside tomorrow as a day of prayer.

"The result desired," said the announcement, "is to cheer, console and strengthen the hearts of the mothers who have sons in the camp or trench and to secure thru mothers' letters to their sons a higher spiritual soldiermorale."

Judge Kohlsaat was 72 years old.

A CRAZY MAN TAKEN.

Yesterday morning a colored man evidently about fifty years of age, appeared at the home of Ezra Little in the south part of the county, not far from Murrayville and seemed to be in great trepidation as he thought some one was following him to do him hurt. The man was so evidently insane that Mr. Little summoned help and brought him to the institution where he was cared for.

MORGAN'S MAY QUOTA IS INCREASED TO NINETY-SEVEN MEN

Will Leave County Latter Part of This Month for Camp Shelby.

Ninety-seven Morgan county men will be sent to Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Mississippi, during the five day period beginning May 25th.

Saturday morning the local exemption board received an order from Adjutant General Dickson at Springfield increasing the county's quota from 70 to 97.

It is not improbable that this number will be increased again before the men are called to camp. However, without further increase in number, this will be the largest squad of men that the local board has been called upon to handle.

Regulations in effect at the present time excluding farmers from military service mean that this number of men must come from the towns in the county and it is certain that a very large percentage of the squad will be made up of Jacksonville boys.

An additional list of names appears in this column this morning. This is the third list of names published from which the May quota of the county will be selected. It is the intention of the board to publish the names of the men liable for service as soon as they are made up by the board so that those who are "actively and assiduously" engaged in the work of farming may make affidavits so stating and be exempt from service at this time.

It is estimated that the May quota will be selected from the names of about 350 registrants, so that if your name is published it does not necessarily follow that you will go to camp this month. but it does mean that you are liable for service and that unless you can show good cause why you should remain at home at this time there is great probability that you will be a member of this increment.

The board will take up the matter of selecting the men who are to go just as soon as these names have been published and notices sent. Unless affidavits are presented showing that you are engaged in farming you will be liable for army service in accordance with your serial number.

The members of the board have already begun consideration of plans for a farewell ceremonial for the departing men. As this is the largest number yet to leave the county at one time, there will assuredly be an immense number of people who will wish to attend the meeting and it has been suggested that the Grand Opera house be secured for this purpose. This would afford greater accommodations than any other edifice in the city and it is certain that Jacksonville owes it to the men who are leaving to make the occasion a memorable one and do nothing by half-way measures. Now that the matter of music has been seen to by the patriotic musicians of the city, the leaving of 100 of our sons should be made an event long to be remembered in this city.

Word was received at the office of the local exemption board yesterday from Leonard Floyd at Alton stating that he had not received his official notice from the board for mobilization and on account of not leaving a forwarding address for his mail was unaware of the fact that he was expected to leave this city for Fort Thomas Friday. He will report to the board immediately and expects to leave Monday afternoon for camp.

A message was also received from Salvatore Russi from Michigan stating that he would arrive in Jacksonville Monday morning, ready to leave for Fort Thomas in the afternoon.

Mark G. Gordon, a Morgan county registrant, and a teacher at Eureka College, Eureka, Ill., has enlisted in the nation's service so the local board was apprised yesterday. He was specially inducted into the service under order of the surgeon general and will enter the medical corps, being sent to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. Altho Prof. Gordon has had no medical training it is understood that his special induction into the service at this time was made on account of his knowledge of German and French. He speaks both languages fluently.

All medical men of local boards thruout this district, all medical assistants to such boards, and all lay members of local boards, are requested to meet with the district Medical Advisory Board at Passavant Memorial Hospital in this city Wednesday.

The local board has received orders to "assemble May 17, for transportation to Fort Wayne, Mich., one colored man." Henry Douglas will leave on that date.

The local board is making arrangements for the mobilization and induction of the ninety-seven registrants who are to be forwarded to Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Miss., within the five day period beginning May 25. All of the registrants named below, who are in line for call, are requested to advise the local board at once as to the nature of their present occupation. If they are "actively, completely and assiduously engaged in the planting and cultivation of a crop" they should present an affidavit signed by the registrant and his employer affairming such occupation, and present same to the local board at once. Alltional lists will be published within the next day or two.

Immediate attention to this is necessary as no affidavit will be considered after the official notice to report has been mailed by the board:

(By The Associated Press)

San Antonio, Texas, May 11.—Two cadet observers who were in an army observation balloon which broke away at a balloon field near here today, reached the field tonight by automobile. The camp adjutant in the absence of Major A. B. Lambert, commander, declined to give the names of the cadets or state how they effected a landnig. All observers in that type of balloons wear a folded parachute which, in event they should fall from the basket, opens automatically. The balloon came to earth near Austin, this afternoon.

ISSUES STATEMENT.

Washington, May 11.—Postmaster Burleson and George Creel chairman of the committee on public information tonight issued statements in connection with Colonel Roosevelt's charges that the administration has discriminated between publications friendly to and those critical of it and the proof he has offered in substantiation.

Mr. Burleson suggested that in the further statement which Colonel Roosevelt has announced he will make in support of his charges he refrain from obscuring the issue "by dragging in any more irrevelant and extraneous matter." He added that neither Mr. Creel nor the department of justice has aught to do with the charges made by the colonel.

Mr. Creel denied Colonel Roosevelt's statement that he had attacked Colliers' Weekly, the Metropolitan Magazine and the New York Tribune declaring that he merely had "exposed certain specific misstatement of fact they printed."

I. W. W. MEMBER HAS STRANGE VISION

Sees Organization Rising as Savior of the People With Wilson and Cabinet in Flight.

(By Associatetd Press)

Chicago, May 11. —A strange vision picturing President Wilson and his cabinet in flight and I. W. W. rising up as saviors of the people came to Harrison George, a defendant and in printed form was submitted as evidence today in the sedition conspiracy trial of 112 leaders of the organization. The vision which the government charges was part of a conspiracy to block America's war program was given wide circulation last summer and described the nation's industrial system tumbling like a house of blocks thru practice of sabotage against great producing plants.

This and scores of other documents defying the government, assailing conscription and urging "war against war" were read into the records by Frank K. Nebeker and Claude R. Porter, special prosecutors.

A resolution by the general executive board opposing war was placed in the records over objection of counsel for the defense who declared there was no evidence showing it was adopted last July as contended by the prosecution. At adjournment tonight the government virtually had completed introduction of printed matter used in the alleged anti-war campaign and expects to bring up matter from the personal files of leaders of the organization Monday.

"Workers of all lands arouse," said the printed vision published in the Industrial Worker. "Conscription is a challenge. We call on workers of America and all involved nations to meet conscription or declarations of war by general strike and insurrection. We call upon you to seize control of all industries. Break your chains, assert your power!"

After asserting that the I. W. W. was deluged with pledges of support and that world-wide strikes were about to occur, the vision continued:

"Mobilization crippled more and more as days pass. Federal officials are in a panic and the rich are fleeing the country in private yachts."

It added that thru sabotage hundreds of trains were stalled, wheels of industry had ceased to turn, cities were dark and th t troops were disbanding for lack of food.

"The president and his cabinet leave secretly on a yacht for parts unknown, the senate fades away."

Government attorneys declare the article was in effect a promise to members of results that would be obtained if the "war against the war," were properly conducted.

LARGER INCREMENT MAY BE SUMMONED IN JUNE

More than 1,300,000 Have Been Called by Draft—Mobilization to Continue Thru Summer and Fall.

Washington, May 11.—More than 1,300,000 men have been called in the draft so far and are either in France, in camp, or under call to go into service before June 1.

The total of 1,300,000 inclues all men summoned in the May contingent. There is every indication that even a larger increment will be summoned in June than was summoned in May and April. Mobilization will continue thru the summer and fall months as cantonments are expanded. It is expected that at such a rate, the army will reach a full strength of well over three million within the next two or three months. It is possible, some officers believe, that the number will be closer to five million than three million.

WHITE HALL MAN MAKES SUPREME SACRIFICE

Lieut. Adrian Edwards Killed in Action in France—Dean Raines, Another White Hall Boy Severely Injured.

Douglas Edwards has received word of the death of his son Lieutenant Adrian Edwards who was killed in action in France on May 4. Lieut. Edwards was a graduate of Roodhouse high school and later studied law in Rock Island and practiced there and in Carrollton. He enlisted about a year ago and went to France about the first of the present year.

Word was also received by the Rev. J .O. Raines that his son, Dean Raines, had been severely wounded in action on April 30. Raines was only 16 years of age and enlisted at Jefferson Barracks in April, 1917. He embarked for France on June 12, 1917. Raines had been in the trenches four times.

WHERE IS D. A. R. BRONZE TABLET?

The removal of the bronze tablet placed upon the court house by Rev. James Caldwell Chapter D. A. R., in memory of Revolutionary heroes, has caused some disturbance. Sheriff Graff and County Clerk Boruff both said yesterday that they knew nothing at all about the disappearance of this tablet. As a large war savings signboard is soon to be placed temporarily in front of the court house it is possible that the tablet was removed for this cause. At any rate it is a question which should be speedily investigated.

WAR SUMMARY

News of Activities On Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form By Associated Press.

Another week has passed without a renewal by the Germans of the offensive that they began March 21st which was halted before Amiens early in April and came to a definite pause on its right flank before the barrier of the Flanders Hills just as the month of May was opening. Ever since the costly defeat of General von Arnim's army in its desperate assault on the front southwest of Ypres nearly two weeks ago the beginning of a new effort by the enemy either here or on some other front has been looked for from day to day. Possibly the Germans have been waiting for some allied counter blow, which they felt able to withstand, and therefore hoped would be dealt.

If this was the case they must have been disappointed by the waiting attitude of General Foch which it is felt will now compel the enemy to reveal his further purpose with little delay as time is one of the things he cannot afford to squander with the American forces now rapidly summing to formidable numbers.

If, as considered certain the Germans have employed such time as they have felt impelled to spend in building up the machinery for a new attack on probably an even greater scale than before, it is equally sure that the allied armies under their unified command have not neglected to employ the interval in making every preparation possible to meet the German blow. Every day gives evidence of the alertness of the allied forces. Numerous minor operations have been undertaken to improve their positions on the various fronts and their artillery fire has been directed to equally good purpose in breaking up the organizing efforts of the enemy. Anrplane raids without number in which the superiority of the entente forces has been clearly shown have served the same end, besides being notably productive of valuable information while innumerable infantry raids have almost been uniformly fruitful in an informative sense.

Betterments of the allied position reported yesterday included an advance by the French on the Flanders front, in the neighborhood of Locre, where the approaches to Mont Rouge, one of the bulwarqs of the allied line, have thereby been made more secure.

Far to the south of the Somme, on the southerly side of the great Montdidier salient, French troops likewise carved a slice out of German-held territory near Orvillers-Sorel, seven miles southeast of Montdidier.

As a complement to both these operations there already numerous successful raids, notably one by the French in the region north of Grivesness, southeast of Amiens, near the point where General Petain's troops made a notable advance as the result of a local attack Thursday and another along the line southeast of Montdidier. The British carried out profitable raiding operations near the westerly end of the Lys salient in Flanders.

Indications are multiplying that Germany's positions in the east is causing her uneasiness. She is reported to have made additional demands on Russia which are said to have affected sensibly the sentiment of the Bolsheviki, whose attempts to weld an army into shape the Germans are attempting to thwart.

In the Ukraine the situation is even more disturbing to the Germans according to current despatch which announce a growing anti-German sentiment because of the repressive measures of the Teutons.. To meet this additional German troops are being sent to the disturbed region, the western front even being drawn upon for cavalry, despatches from Dutch sources announce. This reports Bavarian horsemen arriving at Liege, Belgium, on their way to the Ukraine.

Troops of the new national army of the United States paraded thru London on Saturday, three battalions of them, to the plaudits of large crowds and the compliments of King George, Premier Lloyd George and other notables.

His blessings on our arms and a speedy restoration of an honorable and lasting peace to the nations of the earth; and

"Whereas, It has always been the reverent habit of the people of the United States to turn in humble appeal to Almighty God for his guidance in the affairs of their common life;

"Now, therefore, I , Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim Thursday, the thirtieth day of May, a day already freighted with sacred and stimulating memories a day of public humiliation, prayer and fasting, and do exhort my fellow citizens of all faiths and creeds to assemble on that day in their several places of worship, as well as in their home to pray Almighty God that He may forgive our sins and shortcomings as a people and purify our hearts to see and love the truth, to accept and defend all things that are just and right and to purpose only those righteous acts and judgments which are in conformity with His will, beseeching Him that He will give victory to our armies as they fight for freedom, wisdom to those who take counsel on our behalf in these days of dark struggle and perplexity and steadfastness to our people to make sacrifice to the utmost support of what is just and true, bringing us at last the peace in which men's hearts can be at rest because it is founded upon mercy, justice and good will.

"In witness thereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done in the District of Columbia, this eleventh day of May, in the year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Eighteen, and of the Independence of the United States the One Hundred and Forty- second.

NO OPEN DEVELOPMENTS

(By The Associated Press)

Washington, May 11.—There was no open developments in Washington today in the aircraft situation in which renewed interest was aroused by the war department's disclosures yesterday of the activities of Gutzon Borglum. Officials read Borglum's statement issued in New York in which he denied he had been guilty of anything improper but declined to comment. Meanwhile the department of justice and senate military committee proceeded with preparations for investigations of aircraft production. Both will go to the bottom of Borglum's charges against aircraft officials and charges against Borglum.

President Wilson is determined that the entire situation shall be sifted to the bottom.

An inspiring feature of every meeting held in honor of the young men entering the service of their country is that front row of seats in the Court House filled by survivors of the great war of the rebellion, members of the Grand Army of the Republic. They are aged men, men whose hair has grown thin and white, but whose spirit and loyalty remains undimmed. They were ready to give their lives years ago. Some of them suffered hardships almost unbelievable, but they love their country and are yet able to aid in many ways, their example is inspiring. All honor to them.

PLEDGE YOUR LOYALTY.

The great $100,000,000 War Savings Pledge Week drive is on. All over Illinois the patriotic solicitors are going from house to house, interviewing everyone on the subject of signing pledges for the purchase of Thrift or War Savings Stamps at regular intervals from now until the end of the year. Uncle Sam needs the money for the successful prosecution of the war. Illinois has done its part in the third Liberty Loan, as it did in the others. What now remains is for Illinoins to do its part and more than its part in the War Savings Campaign.

The pledge that is being circulated this week is more truly a pledge of loyalty than any other which has been circulated by the government. The signer of this pledge not only affirms his loyalty, but he makes good his affirmation by deeds. He agrees to save a certain sum every week or every month during the year and to invest this sum in Thrift or War Savings Stamps. He lets the Government know he is behind it in this war not only with words but with his money. He makes it plain that he is willing to sacrifice something that the war may be won. He voluntarily agrees to help the government reduce the strain on the railroads and on the manufacturing and labor supply of the country, already inadequate for war needs, in order that the war work may be put ahead.

The government, on the other hand, is offering to the signers of these pledges advantages it has never offered in presenting any other security. In the first place, it should be understood tat War Savings Stamps are an investment not a gift. They are the best Government investment in the world. If held to maturity they pay a higher rate of interest than any other Governmnt loan. They can never depreciate in value because they are always redeemable in full, with interest, on ten days notice. They form a reserve against sickness, death and misfortune. The purchaser becomes a saver and an investor at the same time. His money begins to work for him at once.

Illinois is the state of Lincoln and of Grant. It furnished more soldiers for the defense of the Union when the Union was threatened than any other state, in proportion to its population. Illinois boys by the thousands are now under German fire in France. Dispatches almost daily tell of Illinois boys giving up their lives in defense of their country. Illinois can and must let those boys know it is backing them, not with mere flag waving and loud words, but with its money. Illinois must and will take its place among the leaders of the states in the War Savings Campaign.

Sign the War Savings Pledge Card this week. And after you have signed it keep it religiously, for the winning of the war depends as much on you as it does on the boys over there.

NOW FOR A JACKSONVILLE HIGH SCHOOL.

With the community high school question out of the way it will now be possible for the Jacksonville board of education to take the most speedy possible steps for the building of a new high school in this city. No doubt the board has preliminary work under way. With the unusual conditions now prevailing in the building world it is entirely likely that there will be some unusual delays in securing materials, so that with the best efforts that can be put forth it is not to be expected that a new high school building will be ready for use when the school term begins next fall.

PEOPLE AGAINST COMMUNITY HIGH SCHOOL.

The result in the community high school election Saturday was practically 18 to 1 against the proposition. The cases are few wherein the people voting have with such unanimity expressed their opinion for or against any proposal.

When the petition was filed asking the superintendent of schools to call the election it aroused comparatively little interest. There has been some public discussion of the question but almost all the speakers and writers preferred to present the argument on both sides of the big question. After the period of non-interest and as election day approached the people turned their attention more sharply to the question.

The fact that the city will receive more than $100,000 insurance money from the high school fire and under the community high school plan would not be able to utilize this for high school purposes, had much to do with the defeat of the proposition from a city standpoint. The people in the country were solidly against the proposition because they looked upon it as a plan to levy a heavy tax on their lands for the building of a school which would be controlled by the people of Jacksonville.

Another of the strongest factors against the proposition from a city standpoint was the realization of the opposition of the country residents. The people came to realize that if a community high school was built it would not be with the approval of the country residents and that a great deal of bitterness would be almost certain to eventuate.

And still another large influence in the defeat of the proposition from both city and county standpoints was that the people generally do not look upon the present war time as appropriate for a large and unusual expenditure of money, even along educational lines.

THE SALVATION ARMY'S APPEAL.

The appeal of the Salvation Army for a $5,000 war fund should not and will not be in vain. The apportionment for the state of Illinois is $400,000 and for this county $5,000. The government is thoroly familiar with the work which is being done by the Salvation Army at the battle front and the government has given its unqualified endorsement to the campaign for funds. True, the army Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross go to the aid of soldiers but the task is so stupendous that there is need for all the agencies of relief. The need is greater as the number of armed men increasees.

The high standing of the Salvation Army organization and the established reputation of the officers and commanders give the guarantee that every dollar contributed will be honestly and judiciously expended for war relief. All the money contributed is for this sole purpose.

Wartime Work.

The click of needles ever is sounding in my home, while I make fierce endeavor to grind my daily pome. I'm giving Art and Letters the hardest kind of knocks while wife is knitting sweaters, and aunt is knitting socks. And Sundry loyal neighbors have come to knit a while, and they pursue their labors in patriotic style. They're talking while they're knitting. In accents loud and clear. "Old Jinx is worth a million, and maybe much beyond; he bought, so help me Lillian, a fifty-dollar bond." "The dame who does my washing is poor, so poor she groans; but up she comes a-sloshing, and digs up fifty bones. The day that brought no wringing for her has seldom dawned, but she is gayly singing, because she owns a bond." "We'll know who are the slackers, I'll bet my widow's weeds; we'll spot the wordy slackers who don't make good with deeds. The aiders and abettors of Wilhelm must be canned." The girls are knitting sweaters, and socks, to beat the band. I hear their needles clicking, with patriotic fire, while I am sadly kicking the stuffing from my lyre. Can bard have inspiration, or sing a song, my dears, with all that conversation forever in his ears?

GAVE SPLENDID CONCERT PROGRAMS.

The Jacksonville people were especially fortunate yesterday in the opportunity of hearing the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra. This great musical organization appeared at the Grand Opera house in two programs. There are sixty musicians in the orchestra which has visited Jacksonville in four previous years. Many in the audience yesterday had heard the orchestra on former visits but the auditors were enthusiastic in their statement that the concert was the finest the orchestra has ever given here. Emil Oberhoffer is a great conductor an he has gathered about him an orchestra which is a credit to the musical world. The group of solos was especially meritorious and possibly no numbers on the program were more appreciated than the solo by Miss Adelle Patterson, soprano. The orchestra came to Jacksonville from Bloomington and went from this city to Peoria.

PATRIOTIC LECTURE AT OPERA HOUSE TODAY

Attention is again called to the patriotic mass meeting to be held at the opera house this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The address will be made by Dr. Charles T. Wheeler on the subject, "The Kaiser Doomed." He is a speaker of wide renown who has been heard by hundreds of thousands of people. His address teems with patriotism and he is able to give first hand information about the tragedies of war. This meeting has been planned in the interest of the campaign for the Salvation army war fund. The opera house will no doubt be filled this afternoon.

Y. M. C. A. TEAMS MEET MONDAY EVENING.

At the Y. M. C. A. building Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock will be a meeting and supper for the members of the various teams that have engaged in solicitation work. At the meeting held last Monday the task of raising $350 was apportioned to each team and final reports are to be presented Monday night. There is every indication that the campaign will be successfully concluded at that time.

WOMAN'S CLUB CLOSES ANOTHER FINE YEAR

TWO HUNDRED MEMBERS ATTENDED MAY BREAKFAST SATURDAY.

Reports of Work Done and Addresses Made Show a Splendid Patriotic Enthusiasm — Large Fund Disbursed for Philanthropic Work—Officers Named For the Coming Year—E. E. Crabtree and Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp Speakers.

The annual May breakfast of the Woman's Club was held Saturdey at Central Christian church. More than two hundred women were present to manifest their interest in the organization, its past and future.

The breakfast was served at 11:45 o'clock by women of Central Christian church. They are so accustomed to serving that nothing was left to be desired. The tables were very prettily decorated with spring flowers and the menu was of an appetizing kind. Mrs. George Rogerson and Mrs. A. B. Williamson constituted the general committee on arrangements.

The Spirit of the Times

The references made by Mrs. Miller Weir, president of the club, in her brief introductory address gave specific facts to indicate how clearly the club in its work is reflecting the spirit of the times. The subjects discussed and the work undertaken druing the past twelve months have both been colored by wartime patriotic spirit. Edgar E. Crabtree and Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp made excellent addresses and report of the last biennial convention of the club was presented by Mrs. Petefish of Virginia. The reports of officers and committees were all of a most satisfactory kind.

Mr. Crabtree, who has just returned from four weeks' active work as Illinois chairman of the third Liberty Loan, made brief reference to the campaign just closed and then in a detailed and specific way turned toward the local Red Cross campaign which is soon to begin in Jacksonville. Mr. Crabtree declared that he had returned only Saturday morning from a conference with Red Cross oganization officials in Chicago and that he had not the opportunity of going into details with M. F. Dunlap, Morgan county chairman of the Red Cross society, nor the executive committee. If any changes in the campaign as planned were necessary that they would be made later.

Mr. Crabtree spoke with fine enthusiasm and it was very apparent that every woman present was willing to join heartily in the coming campaign. An extended notice of his address especially with reference to the coming Red Cross campaign appears elsewhere in this issue.

The President's Statement

Mrs. Miller Weir in her very appropriate address said: "I do not wish to prolong our program unduly and lengthy speeches are not in order. We have some interesting things in store for us, so I will only say a few words at this our last meeting of the season. One more year in the life of the Jacksonville Woman's club is drawing to a close. It is our twenty-first year, the year of our majority, and also the first year of the great world's war, and indivirually and collectively we have entered our country's service. We have bought a Liberty bond, have co-operated in the work of the Red Cross, of the Council of National Defense, in the War Y. M. C. A. activities, in the War Camp Community service and have pledged monthly support to the Social Service league of our city. Our local Y. has been remembered, also the Josephine Milligan school and the free kindergarten. The club stands ready at all times to serve as best she may either at home or abroad.

"I thing that each one of us can say that never have we worked so hard and so continuously, never have we been so tired and weary, yet never have we felt such satisfaction and happiness—not joy—there has been little of that, only the deep feeling of happiness that comes from working altogether in such a noble and holy cause. As you listen to the reports of the officers and committees you will see that all that we have done, and all of our programs have felt the influence of the war and expressed the spirit of patriotism.

"I want to say to the members of the board that I thank each one of you for your loyalty, your hearty cooperation and support. We have worked harmoniously together and it has been a pleasure to me to preside over your deliberations. There are many good things which we have done, but I think one important thing we have omitted, and I would like to suggest that the first act of the new board shall be to procure a service flag. Of course the first star upon it will be to our beloved and honored member, Dr. Josephine Milligan. But many more will be added to it, and I hope next year to see it hanging at every meeting beside our national emblem. There are some vecant chairs here today, some faces that we miss, and before proceeding with our program we will pause a moment to pay them the silent tribute of a loving memory."

Miss Clara Cobb, secretary of the club, read the minutes of regular and special meetings, which were approved

Centennial Plans

Dr C H. Rammelkamp was introduced to speak with reference to centennial plans in Morgan county, as Miss Maria Fairbank who was on the program, was not able to be present. Dr. Rammelkamp made it clear that above all else the centennial authorities do not want their plans to interfere with any war activities—in fact, their purpose is to have the centennial celebration so ordered that it will increase interest in wartime subjects. He refered to the community sing planned by Rev. James Caldwell Chapter D. A. R., and to the Fourth of July pegeant. It is the intention to have then a series of floats and present a county service flag with each soldier who has gone having a personal representative in the parade. Altogether the celebration will reflect the spirit of the times

Mrs Petefish of Virginia, who was a delegate from this distrite to the biennial convention of women's clubs at Hot Springs, Ark., gave an interesting account of that notable gathering. She referred particularly to several statements made by Mrs. Herbert Hoover. The reports from the various departments of the club showed an activity of a most earnest kind, and statistics presented by the treasurer indicated the expenditure of $500 for worthy causes. Therefore the year as a whole is one the members can look back upon with pleasure and satisfaction.

Department Reports

In her report as president of the Domestic Science Round Table Mrs. W. D. Doying said there were 146 active members and that the average attendance during the year had been 100. The organization in addition to its regular work has finished more than 100 garments for charitable purposes and patriotic interest has been manifested by the purchases of three war certificates.

Mrs. David Reid presented the report as chairman of the department of health and home defense, indicating many commendable activities especially as related to child welfare. Mrs. W. E. Spoonts of the department of social service gave facts with reference to the loan chest. The Red Cross department report showed that more than $100 worth of yarn had been used in the making of various garments for the Red Cross work.

Various reports were than made as follows:

Treasurer—Mrs. J. K. C. Pierson.

Civics committee—Mrs. G. C. Guthrie. This report indicated $105 raised, mostly contributed to the war recreation fund and a portion to the purchase of cutting machine for the Red Cross shop.

Art and education—Mrs. A. B. Williamson.

Press—Mrs. M. H. Havenhill.

Membership—Mrs. F. W. Bolton.

Music—Miss Lula Hay.

House—Mrs. A. T. Capps.

The nominating committee reported thru Mrs. Havenhill as follows:

Recording secretary—Mrs. W. D. Doying.

Corresponding secretary—Mrs. J. Marshall Miller.

Treasurer—Mrs. J. K. C. Pierson.

Assistant treasurer—Mrs. G. S. Rogerson.

The officers were unanimously elected and the session then adjourned. The members had the common feeling that the reports had indicated a year of especially beneficial work.

Mrs. J. K. C. Pierson in her report as treasurer showed a balance from last year of $129.46; cash from a philanthropic committee $25.28; from dues $647.50; civic committee $108.30; other resources $247; total $1,044.44. Expenses for the year included Red Cross work $90; Army Y. M. C. A. $125; Liberty bond purchased $100; local Y. M. C. A. $25; Free Kindergarten $10; loan chest $10; social service league committee $15. Various other expenses were itemized and the report shows balance of hand of $105.52.

MY MOTHER
(Susie J. Lynch)

As the honey to the honey-comb
Was my mother dear to me.
She was light unto my path,
With her, I felt so free.

As the root of the strongest tree
Was my mother dear to me.
She made a path and cleared the way
That my steps might smoother be.

These many years with her I've been
In flesh, in mind, in love;
Without her now, sometimes it seems
I can never, never live.

Not without a cross did she tread her path,
Nay! Nay! her's was heavy to bear.
But she bore it bravely, praise Lord!
And her crown is brighter to wear.

She struggled hard, both night and day
For her children large and small;
She watched; she trusted; sang and prayed
For us till she answered His call.

A nobler woman never lived
And I know she is happier now;
I shall live each day the life she lived
And we both shall wear our crown.

COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT.
(By W. N. Hairgrove.)

As to the salaries of the mayor and of each commissioner under the Commission Form of government law it is provided by statute that "Where the population is over 10,000 and not over 15,000, the annual salary of the may ro may be $1,200 and of each commissioner $900.

"Where the population is over 15,000 and not over 20,000 the annual salary of the mayor may be $2,000 and of each commissioner $1,700."

The population of Jacksonville being 15,326—and thus 326 over fifteen thousand and the salaries were made possible for the mayor at $2,000 and for each commissioner at $1,700, and the salaries were by the mayor and commissioners fixed at the highest possible figure. Thereby the taxpayers were made to pay $4,000 per year for governing the three hundred twenty six people in excess of 1,5000, population of Jacksonville or $16,000 for governing 326 people for four years being $32,000 for governing 326 people since we went under the commission form of government in 1911, to next spring.

Say that 326 people are expensive to govern in point of fact if we had only had 326 fewer people in the insane hospital in 1910 when the census was taken it would have saved the city of Jacksonville over $40,000 under the commission form of government.

What, good tax payer do you think it is worth to govern the 326 people in excess of 15,000 in this city? The statute provides where the population is not over 2,000. The mayor may be paid $50 per year and each commission $40 per year, no more than $210 can be paid to a mayor and four commissioners for governing 2,000 people one year, yet here in Jacksonville by means of the Royal Rule of the Commission Form of governmnet we are compelled to pay to a "business" administration $4,000 per year for 326 people.

This business seems to me to be a personal business for personal income, not a business administration in the interest of the people and the tax payers. Why don't the officials return that money at least to the public coffers. Why don't they help the poor old twenty one per cent discount bankrupt creature at whose beast they have nursed so comfortably. If she is now down and out who put her there? Who sapped her coffers? Who brought her head low? Oh, you — you. You, she and her children trusted. Do you love her do you care for your duty. Come and tell why you did it. Come make reparation. Come don't prostitute her further—don't bow the heads of her children with shame. She is fair, she is lovable, she has been respected and deserved it. She has overcome difficulties and shame before and if no one else will come and right the wrong in part—then let us. Her children gather and take her back home, place her once more under the care and charge of representatives of the family, where if she is not treated right the unworthy representative under the law will have to answer to the family.

We don't want her to go into "business", not even of raising hogs, unless it is managed in a business way, we don't want her to be the tool of profit for any click or faction. We want her to act in the interest of all. Considering only the ways of justice to each citizen be he rich or poor, black or white, but not the creature of profit.

Come let us join in the petition to return to the Aldermanic form of government. Only 350 more names are needed to the petitions and then the required twenty five per cent will be enrolled. Come get a petition good citizen and take it out and get it filled and thus enroll yourself as a volunteer of the public good.

Without making any special charges, Mr. Hairgrove in the article above refers that thru the garbage department of the city is feeding a number of hogs and that the records are not properly kept. A previous reference was made to the same matter. J Edgar Martin, as commissioner of public helth and safety, has charge of the garbage department. According to Mr. Martin it is a matter of public record that the city owns a number of hogs to which the garbage collected is fed. Mr. Martin recently stated that if Mr. Hairgrove would take the trouble to examine the city books that he would find the proper entries covering these transactions.

The Journal prints Mr. Hairgrove's articles attacking the commission form of government and advocating the aldermanic form of government, not because it is in sympathy with his views but rather in the desire to accord the public opportunity for the discussion of every question affecting the welfare of the city.

While the Journal does question that the intent of the commission form of government as applied to cities of this size is to pay a salary of $2,000 for a mayor and $1,700 for each of four commissioners, this paper does not advocate a return to the aldermanic form. As a matter of fact the Journal does not believe that the present is an opportune time to stir up the question of a change in form of government or to hold an election, with its attendant expense, upon this proposal. Too much of serious business confronts each man and woman in this nation today to make it advisable to switch about from one form of municipal government to another—to spend money for an election or to engender the feeling that such an election might cause. As pointed out before a satisfactory city government is not a matter of form or law, but of men and public sentiment—(Editor Journal).

Letters of Interest from Jacksonville Boys in the Country's Service.

The following letter was received a few days ago from B. W. Ogle, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ogle, who is now with the American Expeditionary forces in France. Young Ogle's letter is of much interest as he tells of being in the front line trenches several times and evidentally does not believe this front zone such a dangerous quarter to be in, judging from his reassuring words to his mother. Mr. and Mrs. Ogle have three sons in the service of the United States, Ben in France, and two other boys in this country. The letter follows:

Somewhere in Frnce, April 14.

Dear Mother and all:

Will drop you these few lines and let you know I am well and hope this will find you all the same, if not better. This has been a nice warm day, in fact the last three days have been nice but rain is a common thing and it is now lightning and thundering. I received your letters, also Ruth's, Pearl's and Elsie's. Was sure glad to hear from you all and enjoy reading them very much as it takes quite a long time for mail to get here. Tell Pearl not to send that sweater just now as I have one I just pulled off today. But that candy will be just right, also tobacco but am pretty well supplied just now. Will finish this tonight as the Y. M. C. A. closed on us last night. Have just been out and had a nice bath, the first real good one I have had since I have been in France, and had my clothes sterilized to kill the gray backs, and it was time as I had millions. Real funny to see us finding them, but if we don't get any worse than lice we will be lucky. Well, I have been up in the front line trenches a couple of times. Now don't get scared or don't worry a bit, as it is not half as dangerous as you think and if you look out for yourself, which we all do, everything is fine and dandy. I am in rest camp now and will more than likely be for sometime. I was in first line trench when I wrote you my last letter. We can't tell much or where we are, but we eat and sleep pretty well all the time. I am glad Harry likes army life. I would like to see him stay where he is. It has rained most of today. If the sun would shine for three straight days we would die with heart failure. I just ran onto on old boy from Los Angeles and we had a good talk about old times.

Oh, yes, the Edison Co. of Los Angeles sent me a box of toilet soap and I received it the day I received your letters. I am going to try and write all I can this time, answer all my letters, as I might not have a chance again for a while. There are so many places from which we cannot send mail.

You had a birthday not long ago, didn't you? Was it a happy one? I hope so. I had just landed in a rest camp, had come from the first line trenches and have been back once since in trenches. I am writing you this because I want you to know it, but there isn't a thing for you to worry about. If there was I wouldn't write you. How is dad and all the rest of the people. Helen said it was pretty cold last winter. I am in a Y. M. C. A. writing and this is the happiest bunch you ever saw. Somebody is playing the piano and singing just like old times in the state camps. Say, mother, I didn't get paid last time so it's time for another one soon, so if they send you your allotment you should get $60 besides the other $15, and don't forget to spend it when it comes for anything you want.

Well, I must close, hoping to hear from you real soon.

As ever,
Ben.

The wool was especially long and heavy and altho Mr. Lewis has thirty sheep in his flock, this fleece was especially noteworthy. DIFFICULT TO GET GOODS

A prominent Jacksonville merchant remarked not long since that nowadays the merchants investigate the wholesale houses instead of being investigated by them, the trouble with the merchants being to get goods. A while back Messrs. Lukeman Brothers sent an order to a Chicago house for underwear and the reply came that there was much doubt regarding filling the order and inclosing a letter from the house which the latter had received from the factory where the goods were made The factory people quoted part of a letter from the acting Quartermaster General which said:

"Under our contract, No. 260—N, there is a delinquency of 169,000 undershirts and 155,000 drawers. We must insist that you make up this delinquency as rapidly as possible. You must not fiallow civilian business to interfere. Unless this is done we cannot equip our existing army or provide for the men soon to be called out. You are therefore placed under a serious responsibility."

The factory writer goes on to say that they are behind 500 cases of fleece lined underwear and many other products, owing largely to fuel shortage and enforced shutdown last winter.

FUEL SHORTAGE AT AVIATION CAMP

Second Camp for Americans on Italian Peninsula Seriously Handicapped by Lack of Coal—Curious Climatic Effect Is Sensation of Cold.

American Seaplane Training Camp, Central Italy, April 20 — (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Italy's coal shortage has been a severe blow to this camp, the second aviation camp for Americans on the peninsula.

When the camp was built by the Italian navy in mid-winter right on the edge of a big, deep inland lake, no provision was made for heat. The Italians put up two fine regulation barracks, with concrete floors, wood and concrete walls and picturesque red brick roofs, and in these the Americans live—or rather they sleep there at night because there is no other place to go.

The Italian instructors were surprised when the Americans began to complain about the cold, as generally speaking, the United States is regarded as much colder than Italy. But one of the curious climatic effects on all Americans is the sensation of cold in so-called sunny Italy.

Most of the American students here came down from Paris, having for the most part enlisted in the aviation corps fresh from the American Red Cross or other ambulance and motor corps. As they have had experience on the front, they are used to making the best of a bad job and instead of complaining especially about the cold, they merely keep on the jump during the day and at nights before going to sleep they put on all their flying clothes, then pile five or six blankets on a bed and "glide in under the hay," as an Iowa country boy expressed it.

The cold, however, has not had the effect of preventing them from writing long letters home. None of them have yet caught the writers' cramp, according to the officer who has the duty of censoring their mail. It is also a painful but necessary duty to inform their home folks that the cold hasn't crippled their imaginative powers. The man who reads their mail says they relate the most thrilling kinds of adventures with Austrian airmen. If all the fights they tell about having while flying came off, there wouldn't be any enemy airmen left.

They have not yet been permitted to attack any of the enemy, for two reasons: First, they are not permitted to fly more than eighteen miles from the lake, and if they do so they will be reprimanded. The second reason is that there are no Austrian airmen in these parts. The Italian seaplane men stationed along the Adriatic coast attend to that little job. Once and only once have Austrians flown across Italy and that was in an old Zeppelin that bombarded Naples in early March.

"The folks at home know we are over here and we have got to give them something to keep them interested," laughingly explained a youth from an eastern state. "We have got to give them an idea that the job isn't half so dangerous as they think it is, so we always win those fights."

It also appears that the aviators are also good hands at love letters.

"If the girls at home know how desperate are the efforts made by the Italian girls here to win an American husband, if they knew the wiles exercised by some of the American girls in Italy to accomplish the same end, they would surely be jealous," said one of their officers. "But if these selfsame girls at home knew how desperately their sweethearts over here fight shy of these foreign girls, they would be comforted. It's a good thing, too, for a fellow with the many girls on his mind is apt to have accidents. Somehow, they always prefer to travel in parties, wherever they go, if it's only for a walk across country or along the mountain roads, and it's a hard job to lasso a fellow unless he's alone."

re done with little thinking and we're done with little deeds.
e done with petty conduct and we're done with narrow creeds;
ave grown to men and women, and we've noble work to do.
oday we are a people with a larger point of view.
ig way we must labor, if our flag shall always fly, ig way we must suffer, in a big way some must die.

must be no little dreaming in the visions that we see,
must be no selfish planning in the joys that are to be.
ave set our faces eastward to the rising of the sun,
shall light a better nation, and there's big work to be done.
he petty souls and narrow seeking only selfish gain,
be vanquished by the toilers big enough to suffer pain.

big task we have taken, 'tis for others we must fight, ust see our duty clearly in a white and shining light.
ust quit our little circles where we've moved in little ways, work, as men and women, for the bigger, better days.
must quit our selfish thinking and our narrow views and creeds, as to people, big and splendid, we must do the bigger deeds.

hese are some of the main ts. The thought behind this le Red Cross work is well med up, the speaker said, in lines on "The Bigger Day" ted above.

No Time For Criticism.

I have hardly landed in ksonville," said Mr. Crabtree, om the Liberty loan campaign I only came in this morning, it is a great privilege for to talk to you about the Red ss work and to outline in a eral way the campaign to extend from May 19 to 27. Headquarters will be maintained in the Hayden building on South Sandy street thru the courtesy of the Misses Hayden. I came with no apologies for beginning this campaign immediately upon the heels of another, for we may all as well face the fact that these campaigns will come in a continuous way until this war is over. Let us learn early this lesson too, of not complaining for the big task that faces us should overshadow any small matter of personal pleasure or opinion. What we have to do is to take care of the boys we are sending abroad in the very best way possible and to win this war. Some little things may not please you or me but the part of patriotism is to forget about these minor things—not to criticise and to learn to boost all patriotic enterprises without ever a knock.

"The time has gone past for talking about the causes which led up to this war or the possibility of our keeping out of the conflict. The fact is, we could not have kept out of it and still be true to the ideals of our ancestry which they expressed in 1776 in the war for liberty. The U. S. because of its principles and because of the rights it has guaranteed to individuals, has been termed the great melting pot of civilization. Peoples from all other countries have gathered here and now the right American spirit means that it must be veritable melting pot with such an amalgamation of spirit and interest that an absolutely united front is presented to the enemy on every war proposition.

The People Must Subscribe

"In the second Liberty loan the bonds were practically taken by bankers. The third Liberty loan was a loan which touched the people and in the forty-four counties of this state which form a part of the eighth federal district, 16 per cent became holders of bonds. It is some such campaign that we must now put on for the Red Cross, for the interest of the whole people must be aroused. Adams county gave a fine example of this possible enthusiasm by selling $100,000 worth of bonds in ten hours' time in the country precincts. An incident occurred in Quincy in connection with that campaign which had its pathos, but carries with it a lesson which we must all learn. One well known citizen, a prominent member of the bar, did not subscribe to the Liberty loan and did not give to the Red Cross or other war activities.

"A committee of prominent citizens waited upon him to ask his reasons and he declared that he wished to be neutral and that he did not think that it would be well for the peace of the world for either the U. S. or Germany to win the war. As the result of that statement this man in twenty four hours was dropped from a bank directory, as a commissioner of the water works and from other public positions and was requested to leave town and he gave prompt acquiescence to this request. It is that spirit —that demand for absolute loyalty on the part of every citizen —which must sooner or later dominate every district of this land.

Money Not Our Own.

"There are activities which must not be lost sight of—the Liberty loan, the army Y. M. C. A., the Red Cross, Knights of Columbus and the War Savings stamps. We must learn that the money we have is not ours and that this is a time when it must be lent to the government or used absolutely in wartime activities. When I was asked to go into the Liberty loan work I did not feel that I could leave my business for six weeks but it quickly developed that I was drafted for the services and I soon found that I could accommodate my own private affairs to the larger interests. In our Red Cross campaign work here I feel that we are especially fortunate in securing the coming of Sergt. Matthew Wayman, a Canadian soldier who spent nineteen months in army service at the front. He was wounded in a way which prevented his return to the trenches. He is a Toronto newspaper man who speaks with great fluency and I am sure that he will add largely to the interest of the speaking campaign here. For one day at least we will have the pleasure of the presence of Lieut. Robert Renard, a member of the 341st infantry in the French army. He has seen notable service at the front and is in this country following a long period of hospital treatment.

"At one time we might have thought of $45,000 as a large sum for this county to raise but our eyes and purses have both been opened and we can raise this sum easily. Thirty five thousand dollars of the total sum will be subscribed directly to the second Red Cross campaign fund and $10,000 for local Red Cross activities, the purchase of yarn, surgical dressings and other materials. Of the $35,000 twenty five per cent will be returned to the local Red Cross chapter and will be sufficient to pay for the expenditures already made for materials and thus discharge the present debt.

Only 100 Per Cent for Red Cross

"One special fact was called to my attention in the Red Cross headquarters in Chicago yesterday, and that is that the Red Cross organization cannot participate in any entertainment or enterprise in which the receipts are divided. If an entertainment or a picture show or anything of that kind is given as a Red Cross benefit 100 per cent of the proceeds must go to the Red Cross organization. The Red Cross is not a charity enterprise, and in the view of the national directors holds a place peculiarly its own in this regard."

Mr. Crabtree then gave an outline of the organization which will be speedily effected. This plan is comprehensive indeed, including a competent office force representatives from every lodge, church club and literary organization in the county, ward captains and lieutenants, workers for every block in cities and towns of the county, directors of speakers, publicitty, advertising and a dozen other departments of necessary work. It is the plan to have such an effective organization that the actual work of soliciting subscriptions may be made in two days' time. The subscriptions will be made payable in four different installments.

The speaker made special acknowledgment of the especially efficient service given to him in the Liberty loan and Red Cross work by Mrs. Clark Green and Miss Bess Hadden, and stated that Mrs. Green had agreed to serve as his secretary during the coming campaign.

Mr. Crabtree then displayed a small Red Cross celluloid badge which will be given to every woman who subscribes and this little badge the speaker presented to Mrs. Weir. He indicated that buttons of somewhat similar design will be provided for all men who are subscribers, the badge plan being adopted for its advertising value. Declaring that with the support of women this campaign or any other will go forward quickly to success, Mr. Crabtree closed with these lines:

The Sphere of Woman

"They talk about a woman's sphere as tho it had a limit,
There's not a place in earth or heaven,
There's not a task to mankind given,
There's not a blessing or a woe,
There's not a whispered yes or no,
There's not a life or death or birth
That has a feather's weight of worth without a woman in it."

TWO TELEPHONE CALLS BRING TWO NASH ORDERS

Whenever an automobile keeps continually oversold, two facts are significant: First, that the automobile is either so far ahead of every other car in its price class that it sells itself; or that the representative of the automobile is a graduate in salesmanship. Not claiming to have qualities of salesmanship superior to those of competitors, it follows that the first named fact is most significant, viz: That the Nash Six, with its "perfected valve-in-head motor," really sells itself. Rainy as it was all day yesterday, C. W. Jacobs, manager of the Jacobs Motor Car Co., received two telephone calls, each of which resulted in a sale of a Nash Six. Both calls came within two hours, one from a prominent farmer and the other from a banker. We are still a month behind with orders.

NEW ASSORTMENT OF TRIMMED HATS SPECIALLY LOW PRICED DURING THIS WEEK AT HERMAN'S.

This folding makes cracks and pinholes in ordinary shade cloth—it leaves Brenlin smooth and unbroken.

This test will save you this disappointment

Before you buy window shades again, make this test. You can tell whether a shade will give you the real service you have a right to expect or whether it is another of the kind that makes it impossible to keep your windows attractive.

If you fold the ordinary shade material tightly, its "filling" of chalk and clay drops out. You can see cracks and countless pinholes! (See photograph No. 1 above.) The little strains of everyday use would cause just such disfiguring holes—once these shades were at your windows.

Now fold Brenlin! Not a crack or pinhole in it! (See photograph No. 2) Brenlin will hang smooth and straight at your windows; it will wear and wear long after an ordinary shade would have to be discarded because it contains absolutely no "filling." Its base is a finer, more closely woven cloth, especially prepared to give you the most durable shade material it is possible to make. Rain will not spot it; sun will not fade it.

We have the genuine Brenlin (the name perforated on the edge of the cloth) in a number of rich colors and in Duplex—one color on one side, a different one on the other.

Let us plan with you for more lastingly attractive window effects. In the long run, this long-wearing shade material is by far the most economical—and think of the disappointment and trouble it will save. Come in today!

RIFLES RECEIVED FOR LOCAL MILITIA

Will be Distributed to Men at Drill Monday Night.

The new Springfield rifles for the local military company, sixty five in number, were received yesterday from the adjutant general. A number of the rifles were placed on display by Corp. Fred Darr in the windows of the H. L. & B. W. Smith store. The others were housed in armory hall. The rifles will be distributed to the men Monday night at the regular drill and the officers are anticipating that every man will be present.

An announcement of special interest will also be made to the men and it is, therefore, especially desired that there be a 100 per cent attendance. At one time it was thought possible that used rifles of a type prevailing years ago would be the only ones available for the company. The men will be therefore greatly interested in the announcement that the rifles which have been secured are of the Springfield make and the newest pattern.

TWENTY SIX NEW MEMBERS ADDED

Maximum War Savings Club is Growing—F. J. Waddell Chairman of the Club Hopes to Reach Final Goal—Wishes All Maximum Subscribers to Sign Pledge Cards and Get Certificates of Membership.

Twenty-six new members have been added to the Maximum War Savings club. This was made known Saturday evening by Frank J. Waddell, chairman of the club, in Morgan county. Mr. Waddell says that there probably are a number of residents of the city and county who have purchased the maximum number of stamps whose names have not yet been returned to the committee.

The known number of members at the present time is 89 and represents in the aggregate a total of $89,000. The government has assigned $125,000,000 as Illinois' quota of war savings and thrift stamps. The quota for Morgan county is $688,000 which is approximately as large as the county's first Liberty Bond quota.

While thousands of War Savings and Thrift Stamps are being sold thru authorized agents, schools, lodges, postmen and merchants, there must be a determined drive for maximum investors.

What is needed is men and women who will loan to the government $832, and receive in return $1,000 in 1923. This will mean compound interest at the rate of 4 per cent and is not subject to any kind of taxes.

One thing Mr. Waddell wishes to impress upon citizens is that it is not necessary to invest the entire amount, $832, at one time. You can join the Maximum War Savings club by making the initial payment of $83.20, for which you will receive twenty large stamps valued at $4.16 each and signing the pledge card. The card pledges you to purchase the remainder of the stamps during the year of 1918.

WRITES NEWS STORY FROM EASTERN CAMP

Owen Franks Went With East St. Louis Contingent to Begin Army Cantonment Training.

Owen Franks who recently went to Camp Dix with a contingent from East St. Louis writes to his father A. F. Franks as follows:

Camp Dix, May 7, 1918.

Dear Dad:—Now for the first news from dear old Camp Dix. We arrived here O. K. and the first thing they did was to vaccinate us and give us a shot in the arm.

Some of the boys got sick when they got their shot but your chip did not get a bit sick. My vaccination also took. We were then given our mess kit and three blankets and assigned to our tents. Eight men to a tent. All the boys I left with are in my tent.

They did not drill us the first day but have given us our share ever since. Last Saturday we went before the doctors and they sure gave us an examination. We had to pass about forty doctors and they all take a crack at you and when you pass them you are about perfect.

They turned a bunch of the boys down but will use them for mess tents and duty in this country. They sent me thru so fast I was before the last or head doctor before I knew it and he said, "Alright, Franks, you're alright."

We went back to our tents and drilled then until 5 p. m. We were mustered in last Sunday morning and they ask you about a thousand questions and then you sign your life to Uncle Sam. We have not been assigned to our regular company as yet as it takes some time to place all these men.

There are about 60,000 men here The camp is ten miles square. We expect to get our uniforms soon and after that we will be assigned to our company. Please thank Mr. and Mrs. Tietze and Helen for the way they treated me the last night I was in East St. Louis. Give all the boys and girls in the office my best and the folks at home.

They had a bunch of us out loading logs onto a truck yesterday and believe me you should have seen me eat last night. They gave me a squad to drill this a. m. and we had very good luck. We sure have a fine bunch of officers.

Do not send any smokes until I send for them as I am taking care of the ones I have.

Well, I must close and get to bed. Love to all.

Owen.

COMMUNITY HIGH SCHOOL PLAN LOSES

People in Both City and County Very Strongly Against Proposition—Vote is 114 for and 1841 Against.

In the election on the community high school question held Saturday the proposition was decisively defeated. The total vote for the proposition was 114 while 1,841 votes were registered as against it. The sentiment against the proposition in both the city and county was very strong. The four precincts in Jacksonville showed 107 votes for and 963 against, or a majority in the city against the proposition of 856. In the four country precincts but seven votes were cast in favor of the proposition while 878 voted against it.

It is seldom, indeed, that a proposition comes before the people on which there is such an unanimity of opinion expressed at the polls. The country roads were muddy and for many of the voters a long journey was necessary to reach the polling places. Nevertheless what might be counted a heavy vote was cast and the opinion was seemingly almost all one way.

Reports from the precincts reached the office of Supt. H. H. Vasconcellos very promptly following the closing of the polls. As previously stated, Mr. Vasconcellos' only connection with the election was that required by law. The vote in the several precincts follows:

Precinct No. 1, Jefferson school	3	119
Precinct No. 2, David Prince school	32	321
Precinct No. 3, corner College ave., and Mauvaisterre st.	31	241
Precinct No. 4, South Fayette street	41	282

MRS. NELLIE GUNN SUCCESSFUL FARMER

Well Known Woman Living West of City Rears Large Family of Children After Death of Husband—Overcomes Many Obstacles and Shows What a Woman Can Do in An Emergency.

Living a few miles weat of the city is a family which well demonstrates what may accomplished where there's a will coupled with brains, integrity, industry and devotion to the right.

Reuben Gunn was born in Georgia in 1752; his son George was born in 1780 in the sunny south; his son Reuben Washington was born in Illinois in 1816 and his son, John T., was born in 1850 near Woodson. As nearly as known the earlier ancestors came from Germany but it was so long ago that there is not the faintest trace, semblance or indication of anything pro-German in the family now but a sturdy Americanism that is ready to sacrifice all for their native land.

There were several brothers and sisters: Mary, Mrs. David Deaton of Franklin; then John T.; William E. of Chicago; Sarah, Mrs. George Fanning of Valley Center, Kansas; Alice, Mrs. H. B. Rimbey of Murrayville, deceased; Charles of Chicago.

John T. was married to Miss Nellie Daniels March 24, 1886 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Veerin Daniels, four miles north of Jacksonville and began life in an humble manner. For two years they lived on a rented farm near Murrayville and then went to the vicinity of Franklin to a farm owned by W. T. Dodsworth. The soil of the place wasn't very good and the young people had a rather hard time.

The Hard Times Year

Then came the year of the panic and corn went down to 22 cents and hoping it would rise in price they kept their crop till next year and having cash rent to pay they had to liquidate and sold the two crops at fifteen cents a bushel and it took about all their worldly possessions to pay their debts. Nothing daunted they went bravely to work but found a change must be made so in 1900 they rented a farm of 120 acres a few miles west of the city and began life again.

They were glad to be nearer town and church privileges for they believed in bringing up their growing family in the nurture and admonition of the Lord regarding a good character above all else. They found better soil where they were settled and began to get ahead quite a bit when one day in the early fall of 1905 Mr. Gunn came home from town with something like paralysis of one side; singular numbness though not at all disabling him.

One Saturday night in September of that year they went to bed as usual and awoke in the morning to find their barn had burned during the night consuming a lot of hay and oats, vehicles, all their harness, farm implements and other goods and not much insurance. A strap that Mrs. Gunn had been using about the house was the only article resembling harness, bridle or halter about the place. Nothing daunted, they borrowed a vehicle and harness and went to church and Sunday school as usual.

The shock was too much though for the husband and father and he passed away the following December. The world indeed looked dark to the young widow with her little flock. They were Reuben, 18; Laura, 16; Charles, 14; Virginia, 13; Alice, 11; Baird, 9; George, 6, and Harvey, 4.

A person with a timid disposition and not possessing unbounded courage and determination would have given up all for lost and settled down in despair but not so Mrs. Gunn. Gathering her family about her she talked plainly to them; told them the good example of their father and his great desire that his children should be a success in life, morally first and other ways also. She said she wanted to stay on the farm and together they would do all in their power to make it a success. Bravely she went to work and though at times the way seemed dark she had a divine trust that never failed and many an hour, when her family slept she spent on her knees praying for help from above and her prayers were answered.

An Education for All.

Of course she couldn't give her children money but she earnestly urged them to try for an education. One thing was always uppermost in her mind; don't tell the children they must not go to this place or that; not do this thing or that but make home so pleasant, such a happy place, and have there the right kind of amusements that the young people will not have a desire to go elsewhere and the reputations of her children are the result of her efforts.

How many young people with all sorts of advantages fail in life but of her flock Reuben, Laura, Virginia and George graduated at the Jacksonville high school and Harvey will graduate next year. Reuben continued study at the University of Madison and Laura was valedictorian of her class in Illinois college and took a master's degree at Cornell university. Alice graduated from Illinois college last year and is now a successful teacher in the David Prince school. Reuben is at the head of the farm management department of the University of Wisconsin and has accepted a call to a similar position in the University of Oregon at an increased salary.

At Cornell Laura met her fate and became the wife of Prof. W. P. Davey of Cleveland. He continued his studies and secured his doctor's degree and is now doing research work for the General Electric company at Schnectady, New York.

Charles is in the employ of the Jacksonville Farm Supply company and married Miss Blanche Curry of Springfield. April 4th Virginia became the wife of Charles D. Darcy of Schnectady, New York. The gentleman is a graduate of Washington university and is engaged in general electric work.

There are four grandchildren, two the children of Laura, and one each, Reuben and Charles. Reuben says he wishes his girl had been a boy that he might have perpetuated the name of John as the family has gone Reuben and John alternately for five generations.

George is now the head farmer at home and is assisted by Harvey. Baird is occupied acceptably with a man near Lynnville.

Modern Farm Methods.

Along with all her multifarious duties Mrs. Gunn has kept up with the times in the matter of farming and while she pays grain rent and cash for pasture she would like to pay all cash rent and run the farm wholly according to her own ideas though she gets along very pleasantly with her landlady, Dr. Grace Dewey. The barn burned the second time some three years ago and while it was a bad loss there was more insurance than before.

First and foremost she believes in keeping up the fertility of the soil and sells no material she raises but returns all possible to the land. Straw from the threshing machine is piled up, some eaten by the stock, some tramped in the ground partly and the residue is hauled out on the fields.

She rotates strictly; corn three years, then small grain and clover. She has a field now which is a beauty and bids fair to make a splendid crop of hay and good fertilizer.

She gets the best stand of clover when sown with oats but as oats are not such a very desirable crop she sows wheat more, sows the clover at the right time and harrows it in. This year she has tried a special clover drill and doesn't yet know how it will work. For ready cash she milks five beautiful, thorobred Holstein cows and they supply the family very well. The milk she sells to the same customers year after year and they are well pleased.

In the Hog Lots.

Hogs are her main hold and here again she believes the best are the cheapest. She likes Duroc Jersey sows and Poland China boars for a feeding cross though she doesn't breed the crosses much. She had one bunch of gilts that did fairly well but she doesn't keep it up as the same practice is with other successful feeders. She fully believes in a balanced ration. In summer clover pasture and corn make a good combination but at other times she used tankage, especially for breeding sows, alfalfa, clover hay and various feeds to make a suitable variety.

She says nothing is too good for a brood sow and her experience bears that out. She feeds them most carefully soon before farrowing and after. She likes movable hog houses though has not as many as she would like. She likes to put a brood sow just before farrowing in a warm box stall in the barn and has frequently placed two in the same stall at once though that is not often. For fattening she uses the variety feeding for fall pigs and for spring shoats clover pasture and corn. She markets her hogs somewhat according to the market, generally at eight to ten months of age, and gets them to weigh from 225 to 275 pounds each.

Like other farmers she uses the Reid Yellow Dent corn and Turkey red wheat even if it does have the beards and her stock gets along all right. Her horses she feeds clover hay and grain, no timothy.

Although Mrs. Gunn has seen so many hardships and such hard work one would never imagine it from her appearance and manner. She is bright, vivacious, sprightly and active as any young girl in the county. She is a sample of what may be accomplished by good common sense, a religious life, industry and kindness. Truly her children should rise up and call her blessed.

U. S. SOLDIERS IN FRANCE EDIT PAPER

Newspaper Published by American Expeditionary Force in France is Concerned Chiefly with Recreation of Students and Pilots in Aviation Corps.

Washington, May 11—There is almost no trace of the horrors of war in Plane News, a newspaper the American Expeditionary Force in France. The war anniversary issue, dated "On Active Service, April 6, 1918," just received here, tells of the minstrels and vaudeville, symphony concerts and literary contests, and the little every day complaints of the men of the aviation corps.

For those Americans back home who grow weary in well doing, the newspaper is one grand tonic of optimism. Stretching across the top of the first of the paper's four pages is the paraphrase of Secretary Redfield's famous letter to his bureau chiefs:

"Forget how things were done before the war. Eliminate red tape. We must learn with the Germans that the war won't wait. Delay is the Kaiser's ally."

The Corps is proud of what has been accomplished in the first year of war. Prominence is given in paper to an official communication from Brigadier General B. D. Foulis, chief of the air service, to Lieutenant Colonel Walter G. Kilner, commanding officer of the post, saying that the progress made has met with high approval from both Secretary Baker, whose picture, sketched by an army artist, appears on another page, and General Pershing. An article reviewing the tremendous expansion of the Signal Corps, appears under the signature of Cadet William B. Stone, of Kansas City, Mo., formerly of the San Francisco and Chicago offices of the Associated Press, in which he quotes a high officer as declaring confidently:

"When the American airplanes are ready for the front, we will have pilots to drive them."

But it is with the recreation of the students and pilots that the paper is chiefly concerned. William Janaushek, of New York, doing Y. M. C. A. work with the army, organized a minstrel show among the aviation cadets which was pronounced without an equal among A. E. F. shows.

From rag-time, the paper turns to concertos for diversion. A 75-piece symphony orchestra is being organized under the leadership of Lieutenant Von Ezdorf. When music palls, there is wrestling, with trophies for the champions. For the less brawny, literary contests are provided with prizes for the funniest poem and the funniest story dealing with army life.

Professional players also are in France to help the boys in their fight by giving them wholesome amusement. Elsie Janis was booked to appear twice at the main "Y."

Then there are numerous informal notes about some of the personnel, which perhaps never were intended to percolate back to the states. Under the caption of "What a Uniform can do," the exploits of "Harvey, 48th" are recounted. It is alleged that he receives thirteen letters daily and openly boasts that he has a girl in Columbus, San Antonio, Arkansas City, St. Louis, Toledo, Cleveland, Erie, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, New York, Brooklyn and I———. For some reason the name of the last town was camouflaged by dashes.

"The Height of Misfortune" has been found by the camp paragrapher. He records: "An officer and a cadet on this post, correspond with the same girl back home, and said officer censors the cadet's mail."

The tragedy of war has found the reflection, however, in the midst of the merrymaking. Touched by the sufferings of the people among whom they are living, the boys have adopted several French war orphans. Chronicling the fact that Plane News has adopted an orphan, the paper says: "The boys from the Skipper right down to the printer's devil, have contributed to the support of the little French 'demoiselle.'"

The managing editor of Plane News is Captain F. Kearney.

ENGLAND HAS NEW TYPE OF RESTAURANT.

London, May — The influx of women workers into government and other offices has caused a new type of restaurant to spring up in little byways off Westminster, Whitehall and Kingsway.

They are marked with attractive old-fashioned lettering at the entrance and dainty, artistic curtains shade the interior. The service on the tables is dainty and the surroundings made cheerful by gay chintz-covered chairs, vases of spring flowers and pretty china.

Some are run as a club and a small charge is made for membership which carries with it a reserved seat and a reduced scale of charges.

DISCUSS PART PLAYED BY ENGINEERS IN WAR

Locomotive Engineers in Triennial Convention Consider Work of Engineers Behind Battle Lines —500 Delegates in Attendance.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 8.—Warren B. Stone, Grand Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, opened the second triennial convention of the engineers here this morning. Approximately 500 delegates from the United States and Canada are in attendance. The convention is expected to last two weeks, but because of the war and in the interest of economy, efforts will be made to speed up the work.

All the meetings will be held in the Engineers Auditorium in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers building, a ten story structure owned by the organization.

Grand Chief Stone's term of office expires this year and he will be a candidate for re-election at this convention. The terms of office of three Assistant Grand Chiefs also expire and their successors will be elected.

The part played by engineers behind the battle lines in France and government control of railroads during the war will be discussed by the convention.

The ladies organization of the engineers, The Grand International Auxiliary, also opened its second triennial convention here this morning, with nearly 500 delegates in attendance. Mrs. W. A. Murdock of Chicago, grand president of the auxiliary presided.

N. E. Neill of Arcadia had business calling him to the city yesterday.

VAST INCREASE IN OUTPUT OF MUNITIONS

Voluntary Boards of Management in Various English Districts Bring About Satisfactory Condition—Labor Difficulties are Avoided.

Birmingham, England, May — (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Much of the credit for the success of the Birmingham District in the production of munitions of war is given to the Board of Management of the Birmingham and District Munitions Committee, a voluntary body working under the Ministry of Munitions, which manages manufacture of munitions in the city of Birmingham and parts of the counties of Worcester, Shropshire and Staffordshire. This Board of Management manages the National Shell Factory in Birmingham, which employs over two thousand workers, of whom eighty per cent are women, operating 620 machines. Besides managing this factory the Board has obtained by co-operative methods from the engineering firms in the district an immense increase in the output of shells, over 400 firms being included in the scheme.

Thru their efforts the porcelain and China makers, sauce, glove and brush factories of Worcester have been turned into munition workers; the brewers and makers of brewing machinery of Burton are producing war material while even the pottery makers of North Staffordshire and the carpet weavers of Kidderminster are competing with the engineers in making shells.

It was the men of these industries who started munition making but when they were called the colors the women took their places and according to the managers are doing equally well.

These voluntary boards of management are working all over England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales.

In the Birmingham area the establishment of these boards has resulted in a great increase in output; and in avoiding labor difficulties. Plans for the use of machinery now engaged in war work, for peaceful objects when the war is over, have been formed.

John Ben Burch of Franklin was among the city arrivals yesterday.

James Hitch was up to the city from Woodson yesterday.

It is carefully made of selected remedies that loosen and break up a cough, stop croup and ease an aching inflamed throat, and it is clean of all narcotics.

The prompt use of Foley's Honey and Tar is very helpful for whooping cough, and the restless feverish state that attends children's diseases.

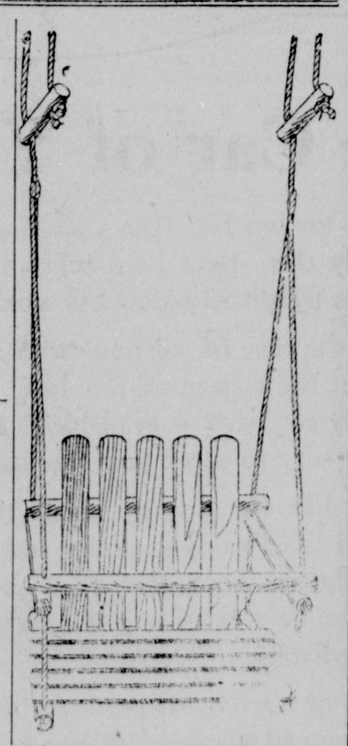

M. T. Davis, Bearsville, W. Va. writes: — "One of my patrons had a small child taken with croup. They came to my store and bought a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and before morning the child was entirely recovered."

All wool is economy

Better have it in your clothes

NEXT time you buy clothes, no matter where you go, ask if they're all-wool. Don't be put off without a plain answer. The clothier may say: "You know me; you know I would not sell you anything that wasn't all right;" but that doesn't answer the question.

If he says, "yes," you can't tell, perhaps, whether it is all-wool or not; he may think it is; maybe he doesn't know.

There's only one sure way of knowing what you're getting in clothes this spring, aside from a chemical test of the fabrics; and that way is to buy goods that are guaranteed by the maker to be all-wool and all the rest that goes with it.

We offer you Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes because the makers dare to take a positive ground on the quality question; they don't dodge; they don't keep silent; they're positive in their statement and in their facts. You can depend on them; and us.

NAPLES YOUNG PEOPLE GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

Minstrel Presented By Epworth League Draws Large Audience —Other News Notes from Naples and Vicinity.

Naples, May 11.—Mesdames Irene and Nettie Thompson were Tuesday callers in Pittsfield.

George Welch and wife have taken up quarters in the back half of the Parrish home. Miss Deihl, who was assistant in the postoffice last winter, but later with relatives near Pittsfield will occupy the front half. Miss Deihl is quite a musician and will give lessons.

Stanley Bumgardner has been given a permanent position by the C. B. & Q. railroad in their offices in Astoria. The young man whose place he takes and in whose place Stanley has been substituting for several weeks, has joined Uncle Sam in the navy department.

Esquire L. L. Grable is quite poorly still. He is unable to take much nourishment and is in a weakened state.

The Freshmen class composed of Misses Gladys Cannon, Mabel Haley, Helen Tash and Mabel Gregory gave a very pleasant reception to the graduates Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Haley. Light refreshments were served.

The minstrel entertainment presented the other night under the auspices of the Epworth League drew one of the largest audiences hall. The performance gave excellent satisfaction, each member of the cast presenting his or her individual part in good Primrose and West style. Mrs. Haas as interlocuter and Carl Ritter and Harry Chambers as end men kept things going in happy fashion. Mrs. Hermer presided at the piano in a delightful way.

Mrs. Josephine Hatfield moved a part of her household goods to Jacksonville this week where she will set up light housekeeping for the summer for herself and son Bonnie who has a position there.

The baccalaureate address delivered by Rev. Geo. E. Haas in the Methodist church before the grduating class of 1918 Sunday evening was given the compliment of highest praise. Mrs. Phil J. Rinehart is vocal solo, Miss Suzanne Rinehart in violin solo, both of Bluffs, Misses Francis Hatfield and Jenette Hale in vocal duet with Miss Marjorie Hamilton in piano accompaniment gave excellent rendition of the special musical numbers. For the march and the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the audience in closing, Mrs. Irene Hamilton presided at the piano. The house was neatly decorated with potted plants and the class colors, the audience present filling the room entire.

Mrs. Mayme Hope of Alton is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Batley, this week, departed for home Friday morning.

Miss Ruth Batterfield of Meredosia, and Miss Margaret Waters of Griggsville, were visiting relatives here over Sunday.

The soldier boys of this community in training at Camp Taylor, Ky., since last November have sent home their personal belongings not needed at the front and this action, no doubt, presages an order soon for a going "over there."

The Commencement exercises Thursday evening, the 9th, held in the Methodist church was a very beautiful affair. The 1918 class is madeup of four girls and four boys—Misses Norma Abrams, Lela Hatfield, Blanch Chambers, Beulah Green, Richard Hatfield, Wayne Haley, William Campbell, John Ellis. Miss Chambers was salutatorian and Miss Green valedictorian, their addresses were very pleasing and evinced careful study. A piano duet by Miss Francis Hatfield and Jeanette Hale, a reading by Miss Mildred Green and a vocal solo by Mrs. Beulah Stice of Jacksonville, were the special numbers. Rev. Haas gave the invocation and Mrs. William Hamilton presided at the piano. The presentation of the diplomas was made by Merton Abbott president of the school board. Speaking to the subject, "The Law of Real Success," Rev W. R. Leslie of the Centenary M. E. church Jacksonville, gave a helpful address in his usual excellent manner. It was full of the meat of wisdom and pleased the large attendance. The church was prettily redecorated from Sunday night with the class colors, purple and gold, and potted plants, the class motto "Sunrise not Sunset" hanging in central conspicious place.

The alumni association of the Naples school will hold its annual banquet in the Ritter-Grabel hall Saturday night. A good program has been arranged and a fine time is anticipated.

Lewis Hayes, our erstwhile smithy, is home from Camp Funston on a short furlough visiting with his family. He is too old for the front but enlisted in the mechanical department to the help of Uncle Sam.

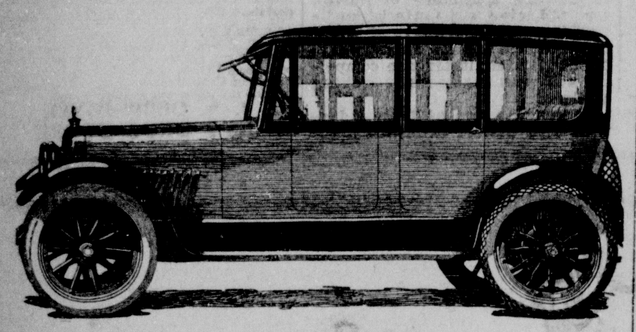

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hatfield motored to Clayton Sunday, returning Monday.

Rev. Phil J. Rinehart of Bluffs in the interest of the anti-saloon league was in our midst this week.

Carl Ritter and his mother motored to Springfield Wednesday.

Ed Cody of Meredosia was a business caller this week.

Fred W. Bolton of Jcksonville was transacting business here this week.

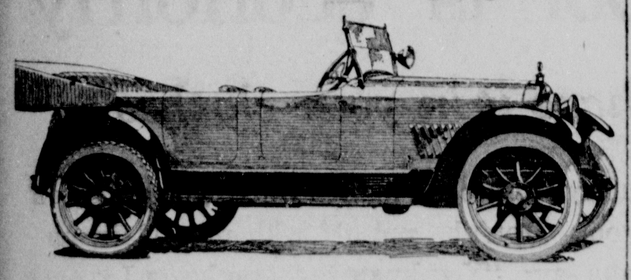

The Pride of Pre-eminence

THE LEXINGTON reveals a further virtue for the motorist who seeks the ultimate in a medium-price automobile —the pride of ownership. The Minute Man Six is not only the car of fashion but a car that is mechanically pre-eminent—successfully withstanding the most rigid analysis from an engineering standpoint—and easily enduring the most exacting tests to which it can possibly be subjected.

The verdict of the critic who inspects the efficiently functionating merchanism of the chassis is a frank, hearty endorsement of these statements. The Moore Multiple Exhaust System that conserves fuel by producing more horsepower out of less gasoline; the new-type transmission and clutch, so silent and smooth in operation that the car glides away like an electric; the Z-section frame that eliminates more than one-hundred separate parts hitherto bolted on, and that reduces weight while increasing strength; the new-type emergency hand-brake that can be operated with one finger, bringing the car to a quick but gentle stop — all operate as a complete service unit.

In achieving this modern car of mechanical merit, we have adhered to our time-honored policy of aggresively anticipating the flight of fashion in motored vehicles. All features bordering on the bizarre or eccentric have been cast determinedly aside and the finished product is striking evidence of our success in accurately foreseeing the mode of fashion of the future. Ever present, but never extreme, the style of the fashion car is accepted almost unconsciously as an indefinable something that blends perfectly into the completed whole.

To feel the pride of ownership — to really know the pre-eminence of the car in all things that constitute motor value—take your place at the wheel, unleash the power in consonance with the whims of your fancy — and enjoy the very ultimate in motoring delight.

Strive To Have Healthy Skin

Next time you are in a gathering of women note the different conditions apparent in complexion. You will see some filled with blackheads, some dry and rough, some smooth and greasy, some smeared with rouge, some streaked with heavy metallic powders and once in a while you will see one that is a demonstration of intelligence from every point of view. The color is rosy, the skin is clear and smooth, the pores are small and open, the powder does not show on the firm vigorous skin. Every woman can have a good complexion if she will only use a little discretion. If you would acquire real beauty, the beauty of perfect health, you must replenish your worn-out nerves with lecithin, Nature's own nerve restorer, and put into your blood the invigorating iron which Nature intended it to have for health. In most of the modern foods these and other vitalizing elements have been largely eliminated. Yet to be healthy and beautiful the system must have them. They are found in Bio-feren, not only in proper proportions to restore weakened vitality but in such form as the system can best assimilate them.

A treatment of lecithin and iron peptonate as combined in Bio-feren increases the appetite, aids nutrition and invigorates the patient.

Bio-feren in its pellet form is easy and palatable to take—no liquid iron discoloration of the teeth, no unpleasant taste.

There is no secret or mystery about Bio-feren. Doctors prescribe it regularly because they know exactly what it contains as well as what it will do and they know they could not formulate a better upbuilding tonic.

The action of Bio-feren on the system is so beneficial, we are so sure of its giving you positive health and vigor, providing, of course, there is no serious, chronic ailment such as cancer, tuberculosis, etc., that we only sell it on the condition that you agree to return the empty package and accept a refund of your money unless you are entirely satisfied.

There is no use waiting for health and beauty. It is better to do things today than tomorrow. Go to your physician today—right now—he will advise Bio-feren. PRUSSIAN GIRLS FIND LIFE MONOTONOUS

Stockholm, March.—A newspaper published in the village of Rosenberg, East Prussia, recently contained the following "personal" advertisement:

"Two lively young girls of the better class, who are weary of the monotony of the life here, desire to make the acquaintance of two educated gentlemen of happy and straightforward disposition and agreeable manners. Marriage not especially desired, but faithful escort to places of amusement and for winter sports is a requirement."

The police authorities of the village replied in the paper's next week's issue with the following advertisement:

"The two young ladies who find life so monotonous here are hereby advised to seek employment in a munitions factory. By doing so they will be following the example of thousands of young English girls, who now find no reason to complain about monotony. If the two young ladies do not follow this advice within one week from today, the police will come to their homes and —if it be necessary—drive them out to work."

Before an insurance company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test the urine and report whether you are a good risk. When your kidneys get sluggish, and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or the twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism and gout. The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment; channels often get sore and sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. This is the time you should consult some physician of wide experience—such as the specialists at Dr. Pierce's Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Send 10 cents for sample package of the new discovery Anuric (double strength). Write your symptoms and send a sample of urine for test. Experience proves that "Anuric" is a most potent agent in dissolving uric acid, as hot water melts sugar, besides being absolutely harmless it is endowed with other properties, for it preserves the kidneys in a healthy condition by thoroughly cleansing them—being many times more active than litbia.

Acsk the druggist for "Anuric," put up by Dr. Pierce, in sixty-cent packages.

Chicago, Ill.—"Just a few lines in regard to Doctor Pierce's Anuric Tablets which I took for kidney trouble. I am glad to recommend them to everybody. I know that they are good or I would not recommend them. After taking a few bottles I saw that the swelling was going down so I continued their use. I have quit taking them now and am cured—getting along fine and dandy."—Reece Jones, 6328 South Seeley Avenue.

GERMANS OPPOSE DAYLIGHT SAVING PLAN

New York, April. — German newspapers received here report that various German organizations protested against the introduction this year of the daylight saving plan or as it is called in Germany, "Summer Time." The executive body of the Bavarian Christian Farmers Associations in a protest addressed to the Bavarian government asserted that the introduction of summer time would "seriously disturb agricultural work, endanger the distribution of food to the large cities, result in an unnecessary waste of lighting, and react most injuriously on the health of the youth, as they must get up in the night and go to bed at sunset."

FUTURE DARK UNLESS ALLIES WIN WAR

This Is Statement Made By Prof. Garner at University of Illinois Convocation.

Urbana-Champaign, Ill., May 10.—"It never can be too often emphasized that the war in which we are now engaged is, for us and our allies, one of defense. If the cause for which Germany is fighting should triumph the future of the world will be dark indeed."

Such was the warning which Professor J. W. Garner of the department of political science at the University of Illinois, brought his audience this evening at the convocation of the College of Agriculture of the University.

"This is a war for the defense of some of the most elementary rights of men and of nations", he declared, "a war for the defense of ideals of justice and humanity which the American people have always cherished as one of their proudest inheritances. It is a war indeed, for the very preservation and perpetuity of our common civilization itself, built up by centuries of common effort and common sacrifice.

"As Lincoln said of the issue of the Civil war, that it was not simply a controversy over the interpretation of the constitution, not merely a question of states rights, but an age-long, eternal struggle between right and wrong, so it may be said of the present war, it is not merely a contest over such questions as territorial readjustments, the freedom of the seas and the like but the culminating struggle between two antagonistic systems of philosophy, of government, of life, of international conduct.

"The great issues which the world is now fighting out on the battle fields of Europe are whether liberty and democracy shall prevail over oppression and autocracy, whether small and unoffending nations shall be permitted to remain independent and live their lives in peace and security, or whether they shall be absorbed and reduced to servitude by their more powerful and unscrupulous neighbors; and whether brute force and strength rather than justice, right and mutual respect shall determine the standards of international conduct. Other issues are merely incidental or subsidiary" Professor Garner said.

"Their brutal philosophy that might is right, that international engagements are binding only so long as it is to the interest of nations to observe them, that war is a part of the divinely established order, that peoples have no right to govern themsleves, that small states have no just claim for an independent existence, wil henceforth be the law of the world."

"The cloak of civilization will then have turned back for a century and many of the world's most treasured ideals and achievements will have been destroyed. The rest of the world must make up its mind once for all—and there is reason to believe that it has done so—that the German autocracy shall be crushed and its power to bring upon mankind such a calamity in the future forever taken away.

"If the present unhappy war should bring this to pass the sacrifice of millions of men and billions of treasures will by no means have been in vain." Professor Garner concluded.

Daniel Voorhees of the north part of the county was transacting business in the city yesterday.

The Most Beautiful Car in America

The Car of Your Choice

It is a well known fact that a shortage of motor cars is inevitable. Already there have been substantial curtailments in production and the freight situation has made deliveries extremely difficult.

So now is the time of all times to buy the car of your choice. If you put the matter off too long you may have to compromise on "any car" that is available. And that is never a very satisfactory way to solve your automobile problem.

If you are like the average intelligent American, you have already decided what car you prefer and can afford to purchase. Quite naturally, we hope that your choice has been a Paige. But, at any rate, be sure to buy the car that you believe in—and buy it immediately.

In the field of mechanical products, the Paige nameplate stands as an unquestioned guarantee of honest manufacturing and fair dealing. It is a hall mark of quality—a symbol of our obligation and the confidence and respect which our product enjoys.

We ask you to buy that nameplate—rather than four wheels and a painted body. We ask you to buy a reputation that has endured through many fitful periods in the motor car industry—a reputation that will endure so long as Paige cars are made for and sold to the American people.

Rheims, the destruction of whose historic buildings is again the object of German artillery fire, has been a city of importance since the time of Romans. King Clovis was baptized there, and for nearly 1,000 years the kings of France were crowned in the cathedral, one of the noblest and most magnificent Gothic structures in all Europe. At Rheims Joan of Arc caused the coronation of Charles VIII as a result of her triumphant campaign against the English.

ENGLISH WOMEN ASK POLITICAL EQUALITY

Are Demanding Greater Consideration from Courts — Protest Against Attitude of Bench in Recent Cases.

London, May — (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—British women are demanding greater consideration from the courts. The council of the National Union of Woman's Suffrage Society has adopted a resolution protesting "against the attitude of the bench and prosecuting counsels in recent cases in which soldiers guilty of murder or brutal attacks on their wives have been discharged or condemned to merely nominal punishment on the grounds of allegations of the immoral conduct of their victims." The council denounced "the assumptions involved that a married woman is a chattel without rights to the full protection of the law, and that violence and brutality of a husband towards his wife may be condoned on such grounds"

A resolution also was adopted pledging the society in its work for the political equality of women with men, to keep specially in mind the disfranchised women wage-earners whose economic interests will be so vitally affected by the reconstruction in which they will not have the same political share as the employers and male wage-earners.

The existing laws as to parenthood were condemned by the Council in another resolution. The executive committee was directed to suggest a plan to improve the position of unmarried mothers and illegitimate children.

LINCOLN DIVISION GREETS NEW SOLDIER

Major General Hale at Camp Taylor Tells Recent Arrivals What Army Service Means.

Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky., May 10.—"The Lincoln Division welcomes you. You are here as exponents of the truth that every American citizen owes his services in time of war to the government that protects him in time of peace," reads a message from Major General Harry C. Hale, commanding the 84th division National Army, stationed at the cantonment here. The greetings, extended to the selectmen of the second draft from Indiana, Kentucky and Southern Illinois, asserts that, "to make that service of value you are, for the duration of this war, soldiers. And, within the brief period permitted for the preparation, you will find it necessary to exert your every energy to master the details of the training that you will receive.

"You will be treated with the consideration due your strange environment and unaccustomed duties. Your health will be a matter of constant supervision and your physical development will be fostered to its greatest capability; you will be housed and clothed in comfort and subsisted with sufficient and healthful food. Your education will not be neglected, nor will it be confined within military limitations. Amusements and recreation will be provided in abundance and ample time set apart therefor.

"Your part is to devote your mind and body to the task before you. Obey with cheerfulness; command with courtesy. Be loyal, be honest, be clean. Honor the flag. Respect your uniform. You are now in the service of your government, and this service, while it confers certain privileges at the same time exacts certain requirements, demands the fulfillment of certain obligations, and these requirements, these obligations, should fill your mind and rule your conduct so long as you remain a soldier.

"You have entered a service that demands men; conduct yourself as such, and while not attempting to stifle your youth or the cheerfulness, optimism and spirit that accompany youth, remember that this is no holiday time, but we are at war and that work—conscientious, unremitting work—is the order of the day; that work must be paramount in your life and recreation and amusement incidental.

"The Lincoln Division welcomes you and takes you into the kinship of brotherhood."

Grandma Talks About Babies

Has a large Circle of Listeners Who Prof it by Her Wisdom and Experience.

In almost any community there is a grandma who knows Mother'n Friend. Not only is she reminiscent of her own experience, but it was through her recommendation that so many expectant mothers derived the comfort and blessing of this famous remedy.

Mother's Friend is an external application prepared especially for expectant mothers after the formula of a noted family physician. It certainly has a wonderful effect in relieving tension brought by expanding muscles, and is a most grateful encouragement to the woman awaiting motherhood.

The action of Mothers Friend makes the muscles free, pliant and responsive. When baby arrives they expand easily, and pain and danger at the crisis is naturally less.

Strain upon the nerves and ligaments is lessened and in place of a period of discomfort and consequent dread, it is a season of calm repose and happy anticipation.

Mother's Friend enables the mother to preserve her health and natural grace and she remains a pretty mother by saving avoided the pain and suffering which more often than otherwise accompanies such an occasion when nature is unaided.

Write the Bradfield Regulator Co., Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Go., for their "Motherhood Book," so valuable to expectant mothers, and in the meantime do not by any chance fail to purchase a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist and thus fortify yourself against pain and discomfort. Mother's Friend should be applied night and morning with the utmost regularity.

Elgin Six

"The Car of the Hour"

Any Man or Woman

can see at a glance that the Elgin Six is not a "cheap Six," but a thoroughly high-grade car, handsome in design, splendid in performance, and equal in every respect to cars selling for two to four hundred dollars more money.

No photograph of the Elgin Six can do it justice. You must see the actual car, and ride in it, to know how roomy and comfortable it is, how steadily and easily it rides.

The mechanical construction is of the highest standard, from the powerful 35 h. p. six-cylinder valve-in-head motor to the smallest detail. Ride in it once, and you will appreciate its power, speed and control.

The true yacht line body, with the fashionable European center cowl, lends a beauty to Elgin design that never has been duplicated. Yet neither comfort nor ease has been sacrificed to beauty, and there is more comfort and "leg room" in the Elgin than you'd expect to find even in a larger car.

Let us tell you about the new records made by the Elgin Six on long tours, and how it has stood the most crucial tests for reliability and economy of operation. Let us explain to you the improved rear-spring suspension and the Elgin velvet-acting clutch—a wonderful improvement that makes it safe and easy for a woman to drive a car.

THE DAVID PRINCE EXHIBIT IS CREDITABLE

Pupils of Seventh and Eighth Grades Shows Much Talent in Work that is Displayed—Exhibit Shows Articles Both Useful and Ornamental.

The occount of the work in the ward schools occupied so much space the report of the work in the David Prince building was ommitted until today.

The visitor is first ushered into the room where is exhibited the work of the 7th and 8th grades unler the direction of Miss Grasley and Miss Sleezer.

The 8th under Miss Sleezer had exhibited a series of very cretiable maps showing different countries, our own predominating. There was much literary work, stories of the underground railroad, various tesa papers of the work from day to day.

Miss Grasley's work in history and geography is most creditable and shows that she has given most intelligent attention to the progress of her pupils. On the wall hangs a number of vertical rows of maps, five maps to each and each map skillfully prepared in colors wonderfully well depicting the subject There is a large list of these showing that the pupils have been ably taught and inspired to do their best Then there is a large list of test papers showing what the pupils have accomplished from day to day. The handwriting and thought and composition are all very creditable. The colored maps serve to bring the country before the eye and the papers serve to show what has been learned about it.

Room Devoted to Arithmetic.

Another room is devoted to arithmetic mostly, the 7th graders under Miss Blackburn and the 8th under Miss Withee. Here are shown all manner of problems which are taught in the departments mentioned. One striking motto in large letters says, "Applied arithmetic helps win the war." All about the place are bills, invoices, problems of all sorts solved, and all neatly and well done. Here too is shown the diploma issued Elizabeth Johnson for best advancement in the Palmer method of writing.

With pardonable pride Miss Sibert conduct the vistors about the rooms showing what the art department has accomplished There is no attempt at anything sensational but the ornamental and practical predominate. The young people have made a specialty of art posters for good purposes such as registration of women, scale of War Savings Stamp. In each of the foregoing lines more than 250 posters have been made. Automobiles have been pictured, candle shades constructed and various artistic articles produced. The 8th graders have some excellent work in calendars and stencil objects, studies in harmony, leather designs. A great deal of their work was burned in the fire. But what fascinated the Journal man most was the Hooverizing of cast off glassware such as olive bottles, all sorts of tumblers, jelly glasses and various articles cast in the garbage heap. By the skillful use of enamel there articles are made to rival costly vases and are colored to harmonize with various kinds of flowers. They are beautiful, useful and cost but a trifle. Such articles should find a wide sale if put up for commerical purposes. The 8th graders have some highly creditable house planning work comprising choice of furniture, carpets, wall paper, doors, windows and the like.

A Lincoln Exhibit.

Misses Stevenson and Wylder in the 7th and 8th grades have a room devoted to hygiene. Conspicuous on the wall are many mottoes "Eat Slowly", "Keep the Windows Open", "Hands Clean Before Eating" and many others. The 8th graders have a Lincoln series; a collection of pictures of the emancipator at various ages; pictures of his different abodes, his work, his pithy sayings and much more of the same kind.

7th graders have a large portion devoted to history, anecdotes and descriptions of what they have heard at various times all tending to train the mind.

The 8th graders show 100 percent in War Savings Stamps and Junior Red Cross work. They have exhibits of literary work in reading, history, hygiene and other lines.

Miss Gunn with the 7th grade has some very worthy language work on exhibition. Tales of pioneer days, early transportation methods, schools of early times and a great variety of subjects admirably treated. All tend to drill the pupils in the use of their minds, memories, pens and the like.

In the 8th grade Miss Long shows what her pupils have accomplished in the way of describing various enterprises. There are many letters which go to show what they have done in the way of acquiring the art of composition. There too is a centennial flag which shows good work in the department.

With the 7th grade Miss Mason devotes largely to geography She exhibits a great variety of maps, some painted, some made by pasting different colored papers on to show the object intended. Then there are maps in relief, a sand table showing topographical work; industrial maps depicting the products of various land all well done.

Miss Alkire with the 8th grade has all sorts of maps; some in salt relief, white and colored along with a lot of well prepared papers on civics.

Domestic Science Exhibit.

Now let us see the kitchen under Miss Newman; or we should say he domestic science department. Perish the men who talks about cobble stones of the biscuits or doosteps of the cakes. The food is prepared in a neat, appetizing and skillful manner. Especial attention is paid to war conditions and dishes of corn meal, buckwheat, graham, potato flour and the like are shown; all kinds of canning, various exhibits of what it takes of a certain article to produce 100 calories papers telling what each girl did the day before at home; two very creditable scrap books containing a great variety of information on different subjects.

Last is the sewing room conducted by Miss Rogerson. Here are seen articles by the 7th and 8th grades and high school. Dresses, aprons, fancy articles, towels, waists very handsome, underwear and much more of the same sort.

These exhibits should be seen by many more than called yesterday tho the weather was unpropitious. Our schools are doing admirable work and deserve to be encouraged.

GREAT CROWD SEES EXTERMINATOR WIN KENTUCKY DERBY

Enormous Throng Witnesses 44th Renewal of Classic at Louisville, Ky.

Louisville, Ky., May 11.—One of the greatest crowds that ever witnessed the Kentucky Derby today saw W. S. Kilmer's recent acquisition, Exterminator, ridden by Jockey W. Knapp, win the 44th renewal of that classic handily by one length from K. D. Alexander's Escoba. Eight lengths back came Viva America, which had set the early pace, while the public choice, A. K. Macomber's War Cloud, was fourth.

The race was run over a sloppy track and under the circumstances the time of 2:10 4-5 was good.

Exterminator's victory came as a great surprise to most of the spectators as few had conceded the gelding a chance.

The start was good, Exterminator getting off in fifth place which he still held by a length at the quarter. At the half the gelding had moved up to fourth place which he held by half a length and at the three-quarters he was first by a head. At the mile he had dropped back a little and was second by four lengths. Coming into the stretch he moved up on Escoba and in the final drive he moved away finishing length to spare.

War Cloud went to the heavy favorite at odds of $1 but his showing proved disappointment. He got seventh place but at quarter was fourth by a the turn, however, he met erable interference and the next turn and was fo the finish.

Behind War Cloud, L James T. Clark, Sewell Co American Eagle finished order named.

Among the distinguishe tators who witnessed the of the derby were Major J. C. McLachlan of the war mission and Major Harry C. Hale, commander 84th division, National Arm with Governor Stanley wi the running of the race fr judge's stand.

Thousands of persons w able to gain entrance to th because the necessity of change in the collection war tax slowed up the sale ets. The gross value of t was $18,475, of which went to the winner. Of mainder $2,500 went to $1,000 to Viva America, War Cloud's owner saved try and starting fees.

FARM PROPERTY

Real Estate is the backbone of the universe. Food, fuel, building material and clothing on the surface, metals, minerals, gas and oil underneath. What else is there to be had? Increase in value creeps upon you while you are making good profits on the side. Thats why we have the common expression "Retired Farmer" so much oftener used than "Retired blacksmith, teacher, doctor or lawyer." If you wish to retire early in life with a competency buy farm land somewhere; and all the good land is not in one place. Let us introduce you to a dozen Morgan County men who have recently investigated the irrigated land in the Rio Grande Valley. Every one will tell you that we have nothing here to compare with it from the standpoint of a profitable investment or a place to build a home and take your family. Or let us have you meet a dozen men to whom we have sold over three thousand acres of land south of Kansas City. Every man will say that he is pleased with his investment and the land is paying a better rate of interest on the investment than is the land here and you can buy there two acres for one here. Let us have you meet men whom we have sold in the neighborhood of Wichita, Winfield and Arkansas City, a hundred acres of alfalfa for every one here. Morgan County is good, but everybody can't live in Morgan County. We have already turned more than a half million of business this year. No matter what you're thinking about doing we might be of service to you. No charges for consultation. We solicit investigation of our methods. We are willing to have our patrons tell you how we have handled their business. They will tell you what we want you to know.

LOOK! Only this week we have listed $300,000 worth of property, and have received orders to fill nearly equal in value.

(1) See a farm of 400 acres nearly all farming land and well improved. 160 acres of wheat, 100 acres pasture, 50 acres hay, balance for corn. Three full sets of improvements. Price $75.00 per acre.

See a 200 acre farm with 115 acres wheat, 80 acres grass, balance oats and corn with plenty improvements at $150 per acre.

MOOSE DOING GREAT WORK

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, March 20.—A committee of the Loyal Order of Moose of America, headed by Director General James J. Davis, of Pittsburgh, has just left the British front after spending several days here. This committee was appointed to determine the best methods of expending about half million dollars which the Order raised for war purposes.

The French and the American fronts have also been visited and it is probable that the committee will go to the Italian front before returning home. On the committee with Mr. Davis are former Representative John J. Lentz of Columbus, Ohio; George Griffith, of Oklahoma City; Joseph A. Jenkins, of Pittsburgh; T. B. Morgan, of Pittsburgh, and Edward C. Toner, of Anderson, Indiana. It is understood that Mr. Davis on his return to America will attempt to federate the war-aid activities of all the fraternal organizations in the United States.

The committee visited numerous points of interest on the British front, and among the officers who conducted them was Prince Arthur of Connaught.

Mr. Toner who is editor and publisher of the Anderson Herald, has been making a study of general conditions to assist him in his work as a member of the publicity committee of the American Red Cross and as a special agent of the Governor of Indiana. He is charged by the Governor of Indiana with the mission of inquiring into the feasibility of establishing a bureau on or near the American front which shall form a close link between the Indiana troops and their relatives at home.

CONDEMN SEIZURE OF BELLS FOR MUNITIONS.

London, April 30.—The protest issued by Cardinal Mercier against the requisition by the Germans of bells for munitions and organs from Belgian churches, forms a touching document, says the Exchange Telegraph Co.

"The taking away of our bells" says the Cardinal, "is sacrilege. The bell announced your confirmation, your first communion, your marriage, and it weeps over your dead. It associates its prayers with all great memories, happy or unhappy, of our country.

"We should betray our church and our country if we are cowardly enough to witness, without an act of public reprobation, the taking away of this metal, which the enemy will convert into engines of destruction turned against the heroes who are sacrificing themselves for us.

"In the name of the liberty of the church, in the name of the sanctity of Catholic worship, in the name of international law, we condemn and reprove the seizure of the bells and organs of our churches. We forbid our clergy and faithful of our diocese to help in removing them; we refuse to accept the price of the sacred objects which are torn from us by force.

"Strengthened by an unconquerable hope, we await the hour of our God."

The committee visited numerous points of interest on the British front, and among the officers who conducted them was Prince Arthur of Connaught.

Mr. Toner who is editor and publisher of the Anderson Herald, has been making a study of general conditions to assist him in his work as a member of the publicity committee of the American Red Cross and as a special agent of the Governor of Indiana. He is charged by the Governor of Indiana with the mission of inquiring into the feasibility of establishing a bureau on or near the American front which shall form a close link between the Indiana troops and their relatives at home.

CONDEMN SEIZURE OF BELLS FOR MUNITIONS.

London, April 30.—The protest issued by Cardinal Mercier against the requisition by the Germans of bells for munitions and organs from Belgian churches, forms a touching document, says the Exchange Telegraph Co.

"The taking away of our bells" says the Cardinal, "is sacrilege. The bell announced your confirmation, your first communion, your marriage, and it weeps over your dead. It associates its prayers with all great memories, happy or unhappy, of our country.

"We should betray our church and our country if we are cowardly enough to witness, without an act of public reprobation, the taking away of this metal, which the enemy will convert into engines of destruction turned against the heroes who are sacrificing themselves for us.

"In the name of the liberty of the church, in the name of the sanctity of Catholic worship, in the name of international law, we condemn and reprove the seizure of the bells and organs of our churches. We forbid our clergy and faithful of our diocese to help in removing them; we refuse to accept the price of the sacred objects which are torn from us by force.

"Strengthened by an unconquerable hope, we await the hour of our God."

ENGLISH VILLAGE WAS BIRTHPLCE OF TANK

Terrible and Effective Engine of War First Made By Wagon Manufacturing Company In Birmingham.

Birmingham, England, April.—(Corrspondence of The Associated Press)—A little village in the Birmingham district has the distinction of it being the birthplace of the tank, that terrible engine of war which has done such effective work in British offensives and which is to be found in every theater of war where the British troops are fighting.

A wagon manufacturing company with many factories scattered thruout England was entrusted with the construction of the first tank and they chose their factory in this Mildand village to do the work, well out of sight of prying eyes. The factory which before the war was engaged in the manufacture of railway equipment is now enlarged and still growing and is engaged in manufacturing tanks, which are turned out much as are standardized automobiles in America. With the exception of the engines every part needed in the construction of a tank is manufactured by this company and thousands of workmen and women are engaged on the work.

Starting in one of the great shops one sees the parts being made, and then on thru a series of shops until the completed article leaves the last shop to be taken charge of by a crew of naval officers and their assistants.

These latter put the tanks thru the most severe tests, such as climbing almost perpendicular hills wallowing thru mud and even attempting to climb concrete inclines. Those which stand the test are driven back over the fields to the railroad where under their own power they are placed on flat cars to be taken to the seaboard and thence to the front. The loading operation is completed in a few minutes and soon a train is made up and the tanks leave their birthplace only to return should they meet with some lesser misfortune of war.

W. E. Bedeingfield of the Joy Prairie neighborhood was a trayeler to the city yesterday.

Walter Patterson was a city arrival from Lynnville yesterday.

ANNOUNCEMENT HAS DEPRESSING EFFECT

CHICAGO, May 11.—Announcement by the food administration that flour substitutes must sell 10 cents below wheat cost had a depressing effect today on corn which closed unsettled 2½c lower to ½c advance, with May $1.27⅝ and July $1.43¾ to $1.43½. Oats lost 1¼c to 2c, and provisions 32 to 60c.

Besides notice of fresh measures the food administration was putting forth to curb high prices of cereals, weather conditions showed improvement and there were reports that all descriptions of feed were being freely offered at reduced prices. Toward the last of the session many early sellers attempted to take profits, and this action led to moderate, but only temporary upturn.

Oats duplicated the weakness of corn. About the only shipping business reported was on a sixty day basis.

Provisions dropped with hogs and grain.

U. S. STEEL AGAIN IN THE FOREFRONT

NEW YORK, May 11.—United States Steel today gas again in the forefront advancing from its low of 107⅞ to 109½, within a small fraction of its current maximum, closing virtually at its best.

Oils, sugars, tobaccos and shippings were the other conspicuously strong features, retaining the better part of their gains of 1½ to 3 points. Distillers' securities was second in activity to steel at an extreme advance of 3 points. Backwardness of rails and metals resulted from disappointment at the failure of the Washington authorities to announce higher transportation rates and to the less favorable quarterly statements of the larger copper producing companies. Sales amounted to 550,000 shares. The new Liberty 4¼ per cent bonds continued to fall, declining from Friday's low of 98.40 to 98.20. Of the older Liberty issues, the first 4s equalled the year's low at 95.64, the second 4s also showing heaviness. Total bond sales (par value) $3,750,000.

INTERESTING PICTURE OF LIFE IN FRANCE

Warren E. Wright, with U. S. Troops On French Soil, Writes Murrayville Resident of Military and Domestic Life Overseas — Refers to Other Morgan County Men in the Service.

The following letter from Warren E. Wright of Murrayville was written from France to J. E. Thompson of Murrayville. In this letter Mr. Wright, who is with the graves registration service of the quartermaster's corps, gives a very interesting picture of military and domestic life in France. His descriptions are of more than usual interest and he refers to a number of Morgan county boys who are now with the expeditionary forces. The censors quite often eliminate interesting passages from letters but Mr. Wright's letter seems to have been handled gently by that official:

Headquarters

Graves Registration Service, Q. M. C., S. O. S.—A. E. F.
A. P. O. No. 717.
April 14, 1918.

John E. Thompson,
Murrayville, Illinois.

My Dear Sir and Friend:

Just before leaving the "Grand Old U. S. A." in February I received the very kind letter that you did me the honor of writing. I trust that you will understand and pardon my long delay in answering.

We had the very finest kind of weather and a pleasant voyage across the water, but I must say that it became mighty tiresome before we landed. Considering the great number of troops that were to be sent and the few transports that we had for the purpose I suppose that we fared very well, and I will not enumerate the many hardships that we had to contend with.

We sighted land early one Sunday morning in the month of February, and naturally enough, away up on the top of a high peak we saw nothing less than a good old friend of mine, "A Ford." And of course the usual jokes began to pass about.

Given Royal Welcome.

After landing at a certain port in France we took a trip across the country on "Side Door Pullman's," and after a couple of days and nights riding we arrived at our fixed destination, tired, hungry and dirty as dogs, but much to our surprise we were met by a fine group of soldiers, who took our packs off our backs and showed us the way to a nearby hotel, where we underwent a good scrubbing and found a fine supper awaiting us. But still better than this they then showed us the way to our sleeping quarters, where they had beds all made up for us with plenty of good warm blankets. We had a fine night's rest and awoke on the following morning ready and willing to "Do our Bit."

The unit is now stationed at a city which is not so large but a beautiful place, they are quartered in a building which was once one of the most famous gambling resorts of France, and where a King once started his downfall which later resulted in the loss of his throne.

At the time that I was with the Unit and located at this place I was not far distant from the front and could hear the "Big Guns" very plainly, and on a clear day we could hear a continous rumble of firing. I have talked to many soldiers who have spent months at the front and you know their stories would be very interesting, they say the Huns are good fighters, but they are going to have hard luck when they try to pass the line of the "Yanks." The U. S. is making some wonderful preparations along every line and it is very evident that they intend to win the great struggle, before many months the "Boches" will realize that we have a round trip ticket, and it reads by the way of "Berlin," too.

The Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross are doing some heroic work. The "Y" never loses a chance to arrange something good for the boys. While I was with the unit we had movies three times a week, good speakers, music, books, magazines, games and the like. It is our only "Home" over here, and it is much appreciated by all.

Wonderful Red Cross Work.

In the hospitals near the front the Red Cross nurses are doing some wonderful work. I found soon after I arrived that the officers and enlisted men were paying respect by saluting them, which is no more than they deserve for their good deeds and bravery. We have had quite a few boys sick in the hospital with colds and the like, and they all praise their most excellent care and treatment.

Just before I left my former station I learned that Reaugh Jennings and Earl Sooy were less than fifty miles from there. I did not have time to make arrangements to see them, but I have written each of them asking them to visit me on their furlough which should come very soon as they have put in quite a few months service "Over Here." I also have just wrtten the statistical division for Lester Spencer's address, it may be that he is not far from me.

A few days ago the Commanding Officer of our Unit received a call for a man to be sent to our headquarters and for some unknown reason I was selected and was told to pack my sack and be on my way. Of course I rather hated to leave by old friends in Unit 304, as they were a fine bunch of men and if I had an enemy among them I don't know who it was.

I boarded an early morning train and took another trip almost across the Republic of France, going thru some fine country and seeing many beautiful sights. In the green pastures there were many sheep, quite a few cattle, but none of the "Old Mortgage Raisers" of Morgan County. The land lays rolling, the gardens are fine and kept up in the very best of shape, the stone houses with thatched roofs and a thousand other pretty sights makes it in all a very beautiful sight.

The Cliff Dwellers.

One of the sights along the way that attracted my attention as much as anything else, were the huts built in the side of the hills and cliffs and people actually living in them as in the primitive ages, it looked queer to see the smoke coming out the side of a hill from their chimneys and one would think that a small volcano was in the course of eruption, had he not known what it was.

While I am not able as yet to speak the French language fluently, I have had several interesting conversations with some very fine French people. They all seem anxious to learn to speak the American (English) language, so when we are talking together and both partes trying real hard, we can usually get a fair understanding.

An Ancient City.

Along my way I had an eight hour lay over at a certain old fortified city of France, the history of which dates back to 64 A. D., and later was built up by Julius Caesar. It certainly is an interesting spot and one can put in his spare time to a good advantage. While I was walking down one of the narrow streets I happened to meet Lieutenant Myers of Unit 303, G. R. S. and apparently he was about as glad to see me as I was to see someone that I knew, he took me to their barracks, where I shook hands with a lot of fine fellows that I camped with back in the states last winter. There is no need for me to say that we had a very enjoyable day, for you will know that we must have had.

When I boarded the train that night to complete my journey, I was honored by riding a coach to the rear of General Pershing and Secretary of War Baker, but they didn't ask me how to run the war or anything like that so of course I didn't mention the subject to them.

About noon the next day I arrived at my destination and proceeded at once to our headquarters and reported to Major C. C. Pierce, who is a relative of Mrs. T. T. Tissington of Murrayville and a former minister of Jacksonville, probably some of the older people will remember him. Lieutenant Conner a fine gentleman is in charge of our office. He has had a number of years experience with the U. S. government along this line, and has introduced a very efficient system for the handling of our records. His services as well as the remainder of the men in this branch of the service, will not be appreciated to any extent until the war is over and the government begins their work of disinterring the bodies for shipment back to the U S., when if our records are found correct and the bodies of those who fell in the field of action, can be located accurately, the whole U. S. will feel gratified with this branch of the service.

This is a famous old city, its history runs back into the shadows of the first days of France A few of the buildings of the old Roman City of the 6th Century are still standing and show a very good state of preservation and have the appearance of standing for many years to come. Here we have a river the tale of whose waters unites several epochs of National history. It was near here that Jeanne D'Arc fought a famous battle. Here it was that Julius Ceaser fought some of his sharpest engagements, The first and greatest historian of France lived here in the 6th Century.

At the close of the 8th Century the first Public School of France was organized here. There are a host of things that I could tell you about this place, but time and your patience will not permit the recital of the many events that have taken place here, where we have come to "Do Our Bit" in one of the greatest crises of the World's history.

Glad He Entered the Service.

In my new location I have fallen in with a fine bunch of young fellows, three of whom I knew before leaving the states last winter, so I am already feeling at home and am sure that I am going to like my new work. I am in the record department of this service and much depends upon this department for the location of the graves of the dead heroes. While I am much farther from the front than I was for a few weeks and cannot hear the sound of the "Big guns' near so plain and I find that I can rest just as well without them.

I have yet to decide that I did the wrong thing when I enlisted, however I am sure that you know me well enough to know that I would far rather be at home with the ones I love, but inasmuch as I am here I am willing to remain and "Do my bit" until we have successfully acomplished the task which we have undertaken. And when that is done I will return to my home and will at least have the satisfaction of saying that "I was not a Slacker" and went with "My own free will and accord" in a time when I thought my country was calling for me.

I fully realize that a letter of this length becomes tiresome and tedious to the reader, so will close tusting that you will convey my best wishes to my many friends, and with kind personal regards to yourself and family, I am,

Your friend,

SUBSTITUTE JAPANESE SHIPS FOR FRENCH.

Tokio, May — The French government, having withdrawn a large number of its steamers formerly employed in navigation between France and her colonies is negotiating with Japansese shipping companies for substitution of Japanese ships for the French.

I. W. C. NOTES

Jacksonville is famous for its many beautiful shrubs, trees and flowers. Especially at this time of the year is this noticeable. Any one wishing to see a wonderful sight should see the spirea hedge at Illinois Woman's College which is now blooming most luxuriantly. Coming at the May day time it is appreciated by all who love beautiful shrubbery.

A full dress rehearsal of the different dances in the May Day pageant was held Friday evening. Each one of the groups is shown in the brilliant colors of the National costume of the country represented. Solo dances will be given by Mildred Nutt of Mendon and Vera Wardner of Chicago, the latter will give the famous Scottish sword dance as one portion of her group. The culminating feature of the whole pageant will be the formation of the American flag by one hundred thirty two of the students. Owing to the congestion and also to the danger there will be no automobiles in the driveway of the College during the period of the performance. The pageant will begin promptly at 5:30.

The capasity of the College is being taxed to accommodate the numerous guests, parents and friends of the students and faculty who are here to enjoy the May Day season.

By special request of the Council of Defense the Woman's College and Illinois College will provide speakers to visit the High Schools of five counties, Brown, Pike, Scott, Morgan and Cass during the next week, in the interest of the boys who are planning to leave school. The idea is to avoid the mistake that England has made in permitting the young people to drop out of school thus greatly reducing the country's efficiency.

The annual installation of the officers of the Student Association and the other college organizations took place Friday morning, May 10 at the regular Chapel hour.

Miss Edith Hillerby took special examinations this week in Bloomington under the auspices of the Illinois State Music Teachers Association. She took examinations for certificates in piano, pipe organ and theory and passed all of these examinations successfully. There were seven who took part and of the seven only two were able to successfully complete the work. Owing to Miss Hillerby's superior training she was enabled to take the second year examination rather than the first which is usually given to those applying. It is a matter of much pride to the members of the faculty that Miss Hillerby has done so well. Her teachers have been the following: piano, Miss Hay; pipe organ, Mr. Stearns, and theory, Mrs. Kolp.

Dr. and Mrs. Harker spent Saturday in St. Louis the guests of the St. Louis association of the College.

Plans for the twenty-fifth anniversary of President Harker's administration are being worked out very carefully and a most enjoyable time is anticipated. The exercises will begin with the baccalaureate services on June 2 and continue through June 5. A number of prominent men and women in educational circles will be present to assist in the exercises.

On Thursday evening Miss Lavina Jones gave a very interesting interpretative reading of "The Little Minister" by J. M. Barrie. Miss Jones is to graduate from the School of Expression this June and a large audience was present to hear her in this, her graduating recital. She is to be congratulated upon her work of the evening, for it showed much study and keen appreciation of the various types of humanity depicted; congratulated also upon her being able to hold a bad sore throat and speaking over a storm. But she succeeded in winning the hearty apprpeciation of her audience.

MAY DAY ANNOUNCEMENT

May Day at Illinois Woman's College next Monday at 5:30 in the afternoon will be a patriotic affair. All the allied nations will be represented by groups of students in national costume, folk dances of each country will be given, the exercises concluding with the formation of a large American flag consisting of 132 young women. Admission will be 25 cents.
